PA NEWC OBSERVES

"Farmers are not so anxious to be hauled to the polls in an automobile as they used to be", observes a supposed "Go getter" who ran his car in the interests of one of the candidates at Tuesday's election. "Most of them told me" he says, "that they had cars of their own, and would drive to the polls when they knocked off the day's work. "Not so many years ago, when fewer farmers owned cars, they jumped at the chance of a ride in an automobile.

In issuing hunting licenses County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland is cautioning hunters to be careful about dropping matches in tall grass or in the woods. It's a timely warning. Many destructive fires have been started by the carelessness of some hunter in lighting his pipe or cigaret and throwing the burning match to the ground. Those who have ever fought a grass or forest fire know what it is to fight a conflagration of this kind.

Report Japan Is Framing Secret Terms For Peace

Assert Offer Will Be Made To China And Brussels Treaty Conference

JAPAN BELIEVES CHINA IS READY

In Meantime Battle For Possession Of Shanghai Is Is Being Continued

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1937)

SHANGHAI, Nov. 4.—Japan is willing to make peace on the basis of secret terms that Tokyo is preparing to offer China and the powers gathered at the Brussels nine-power treaty conference, it was revealed to International News Service today on indubitable authority.

The Japanese offer consists of a deal whereby Japan would agree to withdraw from Shanghai and respect the integrity of the international settlement and Chinese sovereignty over Greater Shanghai

In return, Nippon would demand recognition by China and by the powers of the new so-called independent state consisting of the five nothern provinces of Hopei, Chahar, Shansi, Suiyuan and Shantung, which has been established in the same manner as was Manchukuo.

In order to have the prize—Shanghai—in their hands for the sake of being able to give it back, the Japanese today are battling fiercely to tear Chinese troops away from contact with the western portion of the international settlement.

Severe Fighting

The effort resulted in severe fighting around Soochow Creek, which runs north and west of the settlement, following a lull which accompanied a gradual Chinese withdrawal to new defense lines further west and south of the city.

Chinese commanders claimed their troops had destroyed two of the three bridges built across the creek by the advancing Japanese. Meanwhile, Nipponese aviators took advantage of the sunny weather to bomb Chinese positions west of the settlement. Yesterday rain and clouds kept the Japanese air fleet relatively inactive.

The Japanese are confident they will succeed before the Brussels conference is over. They base their hopes of acceptance of their proposed offer on the following points:

1—The Japanese believe the great powers would be delighted at the prospect of the Japanese promising not to muscle into the international settlement or throw Europeans out of the Shanghai market.

2—Some Chinese leaders, according to the Japanese, have virtually given up hope of effective help

Find Skeleton Of Man In Woods In Venango County

(International News Service)

OIL CITY, Pa., Nov. 4.—Attempts were being made today to identify the remains of an aged man which were found in a growth of second timber in a lonely, unfrequented sector near Pioneer yesterday afternoon.

It was at first thought the skeleton might be that of Washington Tarr, 72, of Cherrytree, who disappeared from his home last summer while enroute to visit his daughter a short distance away. Coroner J. Irwin Zerbe was conducting the investigation.

The gruesome discovery was made by Edwin Axtell of Titusville and Charles F. Smith of Oil City who were hunting small game at the time.

Two Gold Bills Cause Of Flurry

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Curious as to where, why and how they got them, Staten Island police today were looking for a tavern patron and his girl friend who last night settled for their evening's fun with two old style twenty dollar bills.

One was a gold certificate—long snice called in by the government—the other a silver certificate of the Oneida National Bank.

"We don't suspect anything—we're just curious" the police reported.

Kentucky's Death Toll In Election Stands At Three

(International News Service)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 4.—Kentucky's election death toll stood at three today, while "bloody Harlan" county remained peaceful under the guard of state police.

Simon Blanton, 30, was fatally shot while listening to returns on the Courthouse Square at Barbourville. Green Golden, 50, a neighbor, was seized and charged with the slaying.

Hayden Maupin, 36, of Proctor, died in Richmond yesterday from wounds suffered when he was shot in an election booth. Claude Shanks, 35, said to have been an ex-convict, was accused as the slayer.

In Harlan county where the first killing occurred, later returns indicated a narrow Republican victory, although Democrats still had a chance of winning a few contests for the first time in the county's history.

The rest of the state appeared to have returned a record Democratic majority to the state assembly.

Duke And Duchess Will Tour Nation

NEW YORK, Nov. 4—The American tour of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor will run from 35 to 37 days and take them from coast to coast, avoiding only such spots as Hollywood, and the play cities of Florida.

This much of the itinerary had been agreed upon today by Charles E. Bedeaux, their host in France, and by their New York representatives.

Definite in the information that immediately on arrival in New York on the Bremen on November 11, the Duke and Duchess will leave for Washington there to be guests of President Roosevelt at luncheon and of British Ambassador Sir Donald Lindsay at an embassy dinner on November 12.

Walter Braham for sentence in Lawrence county court this morning. After some consultation between the judges, Judge Chambers suspended sentence, and committed Naples to the Elmwood Home in Erie county for further observation.

Naples and McDowell attended the Pollock avenue school. During the noon hour it is said that the boys had some argument, during which Naples pulled out a revolver, shot and fatally wounded McDowell. PRESIDENT CONFERS WITH LA GUARDIA

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Nov. 4.—President Roosevelt was motoring down to New York City today for an interesting conference with Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia.

The meeting was to take place in the president's town house at 49 East 65th Street, where the executive planned to pause three hours this afternoon before entraining for Washington to prepare for the Nov. 15 special session of congress.

Interest in the session between Mr. Roosevelt and the "little flower" revolved around the fact that LaGuardia, running on a Republican-Fusion ticket, had just delivered a smashing defeat to the New York City Democratic machine backing Jeremiah T. Mahoney.

The president carefully kept out of the mayoralty fight, going so far as to become quite angry early in the campaign with reporters who wrote stories he was throwing his tacit support to Mahoney.

Election night, the president telephoned his congratulations to LeGuardia. The New York mayor actively supported Mr. Roosevelt in his 1936 re-election campaign.

Mahoney, the defeated candidate, however, had the active support of such new deal king-pins as Postmaster General and Democratic National Chairman James A. Farley; Senator Robert F. Wagner, and Edward J. Flynn, Democratic leader of the Bronx.

Offsetting the Mahoney line-up, Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes was active for LaGuardia.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The American Federation of Labor has agreed to allow the rebel C.I.O. exclusive organizing rights in the rubber and maritime fields as a concession to achieve reunion.

George Harrison, chairman of the Federation's peace committee, so indicated today as negotiations for reconciliation resumed after an eight-day recess.

"Stork Derby" Case Battle Before Court

(International News Service)

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 4.—A battle before the supreme court of Canada was under way today in the Charles Millar "stork derby" will case, which originated in the Ontario courts and is expected to be carried to the privy council in England as a court of last appeal. There are already a score of interested parties.

The main issue placed before the five crimson-robed judges was whether or not the clause in the will of the late Toronto lawyer-sportsman, leaving $500,000 to the Toronto mother giving birth to the most babies in the ten years following his death, was "against public policy" and consequently invalid. This judgment was sustained by the appelate division.

Arabella West and Alexander Butcher, next of kin of Millar, are appealing this decision. They want to have the will thrown out and Millar's $500,000 estate split among surviving relatives.

League Mandates On Colonies Are To Be Denounced

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Nov. 4.—A public denunciation by Chancellor Hitler of the validity of League of Nations mandates on colonies is expected in the near future, informed circles said today.

The statement, when it is given, will scrap articles 118 and 120 of the already battered Versailles treaty as far as Nazi Germany is concerned.

The denunciation, it was stated, will be followed by a similar action by Premier Mussolini. Technically, from the Italo-German point of view, the mandated colonies then will be left "floating free in space for seizure and annexation by whoever is first on the spot."

American Tour Of Duke Opposed

President Of A. F. Of L. Endorses Resolution "Condemning Tour Of Duke

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, today endorsed the resolution of the Baltimore unit "condemning" the American tour of the Duke of Windsor.

Green said the resolution warning Baltimore's organized labor not to be "taken in by slumming parties professing to help and to study labor" reflected the sentiment of organized labor as a whole.

Green said the condemnation was not directed against the former British king personally, but rather against his association with German Chancellor Hitler and with Charles Bedaux, industrial engineer and author of an efficiency system condemned by the federation as a "stretch-out".

Green and John L. Lewis, chairman of the committee for industrial organization, have agreed to explain the issues in labor's war to the duke and duchess on their arrival here. Lewis declined to comment on the Baltimore resoultion.

Hahn Trial Is Nearing Finish

Mrs. Anna Hahn Should Know Her Fate By End Of Present Week

Mrs. Anna Hahn

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 4.—By the week-end, it appeared today that Mrs. Anna Marie Hahn would either have freedom in her grasp or face the penalty for murder

Only the closing arguments or the opposing lawyers today and tomorrow intervened before the judge will instruct the jury of eleven women and one man on deciding the fate of the blond defendant.

Five hours were allotted to each side for summing up the case and it therefore, appeared a certainty that the jury will begin its deliberations on Mrs. Hahn's guilt or innocence sometime late tomorrow.

Charged With Murder

The state had considered she was more strongly implicated with the death of 72-year-old Jacob Wagner than any of the others and thus chose it for the trial, although Mrs. Hahn is also under indictment for the slaying of George Sellman.

While Mrs. Hahn and her attorneys today said they were still confident of a speedy verdict in their

Brussels Parley Launches Move In Peace Effort

Seeks Direct Peace Negotiations Between Japan And China

ABANDON HOPE JAPAN TO ATTEND

Conference Will Employ Nothing But Conciliatory Measures In Far East

By KENNETH T. DOWNS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BRUSSELS, Nov. 4—Abandoning hope of obtaining active Japanese participation in its deliberations, the nine-power treaty conference this afternoon launched a move for direct peace negotiations between Japan and China.

Norman H. Davis, American ambassador-at-large and chief of the United States delegation here, urged that a second invitation to participate be addressed to Japan and the conference went so far as to discuss appointment of a special sub-committee to sound out the possibilities of Nipponese acceptance.

But Great Britain stepped in and squelched the proposal on the grounds such moves were utterly futile and might engender new delays, possibly giving Japan the time and excuse for an open declaration of war upon China.

Only Conciliatory Moves

Coincident with this development, any ideas that the conference might employ measures other than conciliatory mediation vanished.

Pressure Increases For Tax Law Revision

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Increasing pressure for revision of the undistributed profits tax was reported as the house ways and means tax sub-committee convened today to begin work on a tax bill.

With many members indicating a belief that this tax should be revised, congressional action appeared probable unless the treasury attempts to block such changes.

Strong demands for actual repeal of this tax may be shunted to the floor of the senate and house, along with demands for repeal of the capital gains and loss provisions of the revenue act.

Special Session "Need" Is Diminished

Election Result Stumbling Block

Failure To Approve Amendments Checks Several Moves Considered

OTHER FACTORS IN CHANGED ATTITUDE

By TONY S. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1937, by International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 4—Likelihood of a special session of the legislature early in 1938 lessened today as administration spokesmen, scanning the defeat of three Democratic-backed amendment proposals, admitted the necessity of a call was "greatly diminished."

Rejection of amendments to permit enactment of a graded income tax and allow consolidation of Philadelphia's city-county governments left only "bootleg" coal and rehabilitation of the anthracite industry outstanding in Gov. George H. Earle's proposed session subjects.

It was learned that the governor's crime commission probably will not be ready to report to an extraordinary legislative session early next year. The commission was named to study the state's parole and sentencing system, along with surveying Pennsylvania's entire criminal procedure.

Too, the possibility of congressional action on recent charges in a report of the anthricate coal commission added another reason for dropping or deferring a legislative call. Should congress undertake an investigation of the charges that out-of-state financial interests controlled both anthracite operators and railroads in defiance of a supreme court decision, it was pointed out, early legislative action would be futile.

His merciless cross-examination yesterday left Mrs. Hahn gray and shaken, but still adamant in her denial of guilt for the killing of Wagner or any of the others. the result of his own investigation of certain taxes. Treasury officials, in the face of continued deficits, were said to be ready to resist any efforts to reduce taxes in the coming regular session of congress.

Will Resist Tax Boost

Returning members of congress indicated that proposals for a sharp boost in taxes to balance the budget also would be resisted.

"I think the sub-committee will consider revision of the undistributed profits tax but I do not think it will be repealed," said Rep. Buck (D) of California, a member. "Apparently there are some inequalities and it may be that some 'cushions' are needed. I have an open mind on the subject.

"When the law was enacted it was felt that stockholders were not entitled to any more consideration than individuals or partnerships.

Rep. Treadway (R) of Massachusetts said:

"While the undistributed profits tax should be repealed, and Republican members of the ways and means committee doubtless will take that position, it does not seem likely unless the Roosevelt administration changes its attitude."

With Treadway declaring that the administration will block tax reduction, Buck predicted that the general level of taxes will not be raised by congress in the coming session.

The tax sub-committee will also consider the question of tax loopholes, taxation of husbands and wives jointly in eight community-property states, revision of the mineral depletion tax and repeal of some miscellaneous sales and nuisance levies.

from either the United States, Britain, Russia, or the League of Nations. They feel continued resistance is unprofitable.

Nevertheless, the Japanese offer is not likely to be accepted because of the temper of the Chinese people, which is dead set against any surrender now.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, Chinese premier and military dictator, could not negotiate peace with Japan until a much later date—and then only after resigning and being called to office again with a mandate from the nation to make peace.

Furthermore, no matter what Japan promised regarding Shanghai, neither the Chinese nor foreigners here would trust her engagement not to attempt to monopolize the richest port in the Far East.

America's problem in brief: Is it better to let Italy, Germany and Japan conquer the world or risk everything to help England and France keep it.

Relatives Quick To Respond When $27,000 Is Located

Man Caught Begging Food And Lodging Carried $27,000 In Assets

(International News Service)

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Nov. 4.—By telegram, by letter and in person far-flung representatives of the Beck family responded today to the magnetic appeal of $27,000.

Harried policemen scratched their heads while grimly, grizzled old William F. Beck stomped up and down his cell, raging:

"I want no part of them. I want to go on living my life as I have."

Various Becks started to be heard from as soon as word got around that 66-year-old William F. had been caught begging food and lodging at the local jail with $27,000 in assets bulging his pockets.

There was a letter from Theola Beck of Topeka, Kan., who said she was his daughter, and another from Ellsworth Beck of Dayton, O., who claimed to be a brother. A constant stream of solicitous "relatives" and friends visited the jail.

Beck of the open road, however, begged police to send them away. He is to be arraigned on a disorderly conduct charge as soon as the perplexed authorities straighten out the tangle.

New Deal Purge?

New York, Nov. 4.—A "New Deal" purge of the tattered remnants of the Tammany tiger loomed as a possible outcome of today's scheduled conference here between President Roosevelt and Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, victor by 454,425 votes in Tuesday's municipal election.

A thorough housecleaning of what is left of the Tammany regime may be discussed at the conference, some observers believed.

An additional wigwam chieftain was lopped off the state's rolls when Charles A. Schneider resigned as deputy state attorney general. Rackets Prosecutor Thomas E. Dewey, newly-elected district attorney of New York county, had charged during the campaign that Schneider had received a fee from racketeers for defending a man in homicide court.

Meanwhile Dewey pushed plans to "step up" his war on crime. He announced he would pursue a general policy of taking felony cases direct to the grand jury.

Tammany Hall began to realize the full significance of its disasters. In addition to the victories of LaGuardia and Dewey and the fact that it was being eclipsed by the American Labor party, the hall lost a controller, a president of the council, a borough president, ten assemblymen, two city court judges, seven municipal court judges and an undetermined number of city councilmen. Perhaps worst of all, they lost control of the constitutional convention.

Wouldn't it be more decent and dignified to keep still about bombings when we're afraid to do anything but talk?

Teachers' Tenure Act Is Involved

Arguments On Appeal Of L. R. Kiebler From Action Of Plaingrove School Board

Arguments were heard by Judge James A. Chambers and W. Walter Braham at Lawrence county court this morning on an appeal of Prof. R. Kiebler, teacher, from the action of the Plaingrove township school board, in dismissing him after he had signed a contract to teach in the Plaingrove schools during the current term.

Kiebler was a teacher in the Plaingrove schools during the 1936-37 term. At the conclusion of the term the board entered into another contract with him to teach the 1937-'38 term of eight months at a salary of $100 per month. This contract was signed by T. C. Shaw, president and was witnessed by T. C. McCommon, secretary of the board, and John Dight. This contract was dated May 5th.

About June 21 Kiebler received a letter signed by Shaw and attested by McCommon voiding the contract, but telling him that he was entitled to a hearing. The reason given for the voiding the contract was alleged incompentence and negligence. At a hearing held later Kiebler denied the chargs. The board refused to accede from their position.

Kiebler claims that he has a valid contract and that the dismissal was unwarranted and illegal. The arguments today hinged on the authority of school boards to dismiss teachers under the teacher's tenure act. The school board was represented by Judge-elect Thomas W. Dickey and Kiebler by Attorney Charles A. Wallace.

Grading Systems To Be Studied Further By County Schoolmen

Lawrence county's school principals decided last night to continue their study of grading systems before making any conclusions as to the type of uniform grading rule that should be instituted in their schools.

The county group plans a dinner in the audiorium of Union township high school, Scotland lane, on Wednesday evening, December 1, and the coaches of the county buildings will be present that night.

Brother-Sister Meet First Time In Past 35 Years

Seeing each other for the first time since they left Italy for America, thirty-five years ago, marked a grand reunion for Nick Donati of Rutland, Vt., and his sister, Mrs. Mary Buonpane of 807 Pollock avenue, last evening, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Donati, 821 East Lutton street. Sharing these honors was another brother, Carmen Donati, of Branden, Vt., who hasn't seen his sister for sixteen years.

Mr. and Mrs. Nick Donati and daughter, Joan, arrived here for an extended stay with their immediate relatives, and Carmon Donati and his daughter, Theresia, will also remain in this vicinty for a visit. Both families are making their headquarters at the Donati residence on Lutton street while here.

The Donati family, when they set foot on American soil 35 years ago, all went different directions. This gathering Monday evening was a most happy and memorable occasion for all.

Yesterday, all motored to Pittsburgh, where they spfent the day sight seeing, and taking in many places of interest. Tonight, a special family dinner party will be held in honor of the Vermont guests, at the Donati residence.

Rotarians Plan "Snaffling" Duel

Slippery Rock And Zelienople Members To Compete In Pancake Eating

There will be something more to the Pancake Rodeo of the New Wilmington Rotary club on November 9, than just mere eating. The spirit of competition has raised its head and a "flapjack snaffling contest" has been arranged between the Slippery Rock and Zelienople clubs.

Under the rules of the contest the pancakes must be at least eight inches in diameter and of uniform thickness. Snaffling aids such as butter, syrup and sausage can be used freely and the club winning the contest gets a collective case of indigestion.

Inasmuch as there are 32 members in each of the clubs the supply of cakes and sausage in New Wilmington that night will have to be increased over the original order.

OUTDOOR FOLLIES OF 1937

IT IS a discredit to some who call themselves sportsmen that a distressingly large proportion of them seem more intent on bagging a rabbit than remaining alive to carry it home.

Two men were killed and at least twenty-five were injured on the first day of the small game hunting season in Pennsylvania. As the days progress other mishaps will be reported. Last year sixteen hunters were killed and 146 wounded as the season got under way. Practically every one of these accidents could be attributed to plain carelessness.

Suburban and farm residents try to become accustomed to bullets and shot whizzing around them during the hunting period. It is common but certainly not a joking matter for many men and boys to have lead pellets pried from their anatomies during these weeks. The small cost of a hunting license still implies to many a license to shoot in any direction at any moving object.

Hunting demands good sportsmanship. If every man in the field solicitous for his own safety were to castigate with appropriate severity any person he detects in an act of gross carelessness, the lesson might be more effective than any number of printed rules or warnings.

ALL PURPOSE DOGS

Intelligence tests for farm dogs, begun by the Bureau of Animal Industry in Washington, using several breeds of dogs of different temperament, are designed to answer a number of questions, but few of either answers or dogs will find their way into practical use.

From the standpoint of the average farmer, the chief difficulty with the tests is that they are made with dogs whose ancestral lines are straight as a string, and with dogs trained through the years with a single purpose in mind.

What the average farmer, particularly in the eastern and northeastern states, would like in the way of dogs is one whose ancestral lines may look like a crossword puzzle, but whose abilities know no bounds.

If he can find a dog that will bring in the cattle from pasture, run minor errands, keep out intruders, chase rabbits in season, point birds when desired, and in his spare time serve as a pet for youngsters of the family, the farmer doesn't give more than a single hoot about the obscurity of Bowser's blood lines, or what tradition may say about his capability.

SCHOOL FOR LEADERS' WIVES

Teachers College of Columbia University offers seventeen courses "for wives of future school administrators." Women, it is conceded, may make or break their husband's professional careers. Preparation for the special responsibilities of wives of prominent men, it is believed, will keep them from becoming drags on their husbands' progress.

The courses include etiquette, hospitality and social usage, family social relations, home-making, art and music appreciation, and so on. The courses should not overlook the petty politics and jealousies and social rivalries that sometimes exist in academic communities. And why not a course or two for the men who expect to be prominent?

This idea might well be extended to include courses for wives of preachers, doctors, judges, public officials, etc. It should be remembered, however, that courses in etiquette, hospitality, and all the rest, will not give pupils the humor, tact and intelligence required of the wives of prominent men. Women possessing those qualities to begin with will know how to master the social problems that confront them. The announced courses will have their uses, but they will hardly work miracles if courage, common sense and experience are lacking.

SEEING AMERICA LAST

Investigation by the questionnaire method, conducted by a University of Pennsylvania instructor, reveals a strange portrait of the United States in the minds of British school children.

Nearly all of them, with the exception of those who have been here, believe Americans all murder the King's English; that most of us are engaged in rackets, tracking down criminals and racing the highways. Although the movies take the brunt of the blame for this curious misconception, some of it certainly existed long before the pictures came. From the days of Dickens it has become almost a tradition in England to accept caricatures of American life.

English and American are both noted world-travelers, but in their globe-trotting Americans make more frequent visits to England than are returned. The result has been fortunate for us in setting at rest mistaken prejudices about the customs of the mother country. There now exists in America a strong body of opinion which sometimes overdoes the undoubted virtues of English life. It is a safe bet that the American schoolboy is better educated on England than his overseas cousin is on us.

More frequent visits to our shores might change the picture in English minds, but it would also weaken the basis for a traditional pose of the Britishers. Possibly that gives them more fun than knowing better.

A PLACE IN THE AFRICAN SUN

Mussolini advances the friendship between Italy and Germany through his declaration to the world in support of the principle "that a great nation, the German people, once more shall have the place to which they are entitled and which they once possessed in the African sun."

Eventually, Germany's demand for colonies or for additional territory on the continent of Europe will find decisive expression, either in the form of war or through some other dramatic means not yet revealed by the enigmatic Herr Hitler, with his infinite capacity for surprising moves which have enabled him in the past to accomplish vital purposes. When next he moves, presumably, it will be with the approval and support of Mussolini, constituting a formidable alliance which will be, nevertheless, inferior in all respects to the forces of the democratic nations if they unite in a common cause.

At one time Germany had her place in the sun, also the possessions both on the continent of Europe and the continent of Africa that were necessary to her economic well-being.

But a spirit which demanded a larger place in the sun and greater glory for the now obscure wood-chopper in Doorn, led to the present adverse circumstances. Having staked what it had on the chance of gaining more and lost, Germany's right to a place in the African sun is controversial at best.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TAKING MUSIC LESSONS

"DEAR DR. MYERS: A year ago in August, I started my little girl, then eight, on piano lessons with a man who claims to have been teaching music for the last twenty-six years; sixteen years in a conservatory in Poland and ten years in America...

"At first, with the help that I could give the child during her practice periods, she was an excellent scholar, and absorbed her music like a sponge. But after about eight months of it, she began to lose interest and went from bad to worse, hating to practice and pleading to give it up. The teacher is very much disappointed and can't make out what has come over her ...

"I had a friend visiting me who is musically inclined ... She thinks the fault is with the teacher, and that I ought to change teachers ... Would you advise to give it up entirely, or try another teacher?

My reply was about like this: Do not let her give up the music. Change teachers at once. Even if the present teacher is a good one, she needs a new setting. The chances are that her teacher is a driver, who scolds her a great deal and expects an excessive amount of practice. Select a teacher of a gentler, more patient, winsome nature; a teacher who will, at most, not expect more than half an hour of daily practice. Twenty minutes would be more reasonable for the average child at this age.

Set Unreasonable Standards

Now the very nature of private music teaching tempts the private teacher to set unreasonable standards for the child and to demand too much practice. His reputation and ability to increase the number of his pupils—except where parents exercise great wisdom — may depend on the achievement of his students as measured by their public performance eventually. If he can "turn out" a few musical stars, many ambitious parents may want him to teach their children. Then he can frighten away the weak and timid ones. His concern is chiefly with achievement, no matter about the child's mental health. Nevertheless there are some private teachers who develop fine musicians without ruining their nerves.

Of course, excellence in music presupposes a vast deal of drudgery and persistent practice. A few children could afford to neglect other things, for the sake of music. But they must first have time for play and relaxation. And let me add that it is not reasonable to expect to find a teacher who will inspire the average child to want to practice regularly. The parent must see to that. Thanks to the public school, not all children are expected to take piano music.

THE GREAT BUTTONHOLER

I like to think of that homely old bow-legegd Socrates, who had Athens by the ears so many long centuries ago. We do not know a great deal about him, but all we do know is salty and wise and fits his reputation so well that it must be true.

Lately I read an article about him by Hermann Hagedorn, and old Socrates has been running in my mind for days. Hagedorn calls him "the first and the greatest of the buttonholers". He was incorrigibly one of those fellows who get you off guard, stick a thumb through one of your buttonholes and will not let you go, fidget though you may.

Old Socrates had no social position, but he had income enough to live without working and an amazing inquisitiveness about the truth. Other people in Athens buttonholed you and talked about the Olympic games—or the Athenian banking business—or the latest dye from Phoenicia—or the chances of war with those ugly Spartans. But not Socrates, not he.

He talked of those things few peo-

LONDON—George Bernard Shaw declares nations are slowly drifting into another world-wide war thru their failure to "put their houses in order":

"No civilization, however splendid, illustrious and like our own can stand up against the social resentment and class conflict which come from a silly misdistribution of wealth, labor and leisure."

WASHINGTON — Senator Shipstead (F-L) of Minnesota doubts congress will modify the neutrality act so as to authorize the president to name the aggressor in foreign wars:

"The authorities haven't yet figured out who was the aggressor in the last war. That kind of stuff is all bunk."

NEW YORK—Shingoro Takaiski, prominent Japanese editor, explains his country's principal aim in the far east:

"Japan's aim, first and last, is to bring about a turn of China's national policy from that of officially inspired, organized antagonism to that of friendly co-operation with Japan for the benefit of all the peoples in the far east."

Wonder why there are never more than seven wonders of the world? There have been just that many as long as we can remember.

America doesn't have enough folk songs of life in the mountains and on the great plains, laments a caustic critic. Don't worry, the Broadway composers will soon take care of that.

LIFE'S LITTLE AGONIES

A merchant was persuaded to buy a parrot. It had traveled far and could jabber several languages. He ordered it to be sent home.

The same day his wife had ordered a chicken for dinner. On leaving she said to the cook: "Mary, there's a bird coming for dinner. Have it cooked for Mr. Beesley when he comes home."

Unfortunately the parrot arrived first and Mary followed instructions. Dinner was served.

"What's this?" asked Mr. Beesley.

Mary told him.

"But for goodness sake, Mary," he cried, "this is awful. That bird could speak three languages."

"Then," asked Mary, "why the dickens didn't he say something?"

Applicant: I've come to take the examination for a detective.

Examiner: All right. Let's see you look baffled.

The difference between loafing and resting is in the size of the bankroll.

The members of a dining car union want tips abolished. They want higher wages and no tips. That just leaves it with the one who eats in the diner just the same. The tip will just be added to the bill.

Life is like a journey taken on a train,
With a fair passenger at each window pane.
I may sit beside you all the journey through,
Or I may sit elsewhere never knowing you.
But if fate should make me sit by your side,
Let's be pleasant travelers—
It's so short a ride.

Good Taste

By Francine Markel

If you are a member of the army of workers traveling daily on street cars, you will understand the real meaning of selfishness. For there seems to be something about vehicles of transportation that brings out this unfortunate trait in its maximum degree.

Too often we are forced to remain tired straphangers, not because of insufficient room but because of the selfishness of those already comfortably spread out in a space designed for two instead of the one occupying it.

Since we all pay an equal amount of fare, we are equally entitled to a seat.

Remember this the next time you find yourself taking more than your share of seating room.

Dear Miss Markel—Is it ever permissible, when introducing two persons, to say: "Mrs. Jones meet Mrs. Smith?" W. C. D.

Answer: No. The accepted form is 'Mrs. Jones, this is Mrs. Smith" or "Mrs. Jones," pause and then say "Mrs. Smith."

Also, never say: "I want you to make the acquaintance of Mrs. Smith" or "I want you to meet my friend, Mr. Smith." In calling Mrs. Smith your friend, you imply that Mrs. Jones is merely a stranger.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal answers to questions from any reader inclosing a self-addressed, three-cent stamped envelope.

The World At A Glance

Renewed Spending Foreseen.
More "Shots" For Business.
Relief Again Major Problem.

By LESLIE EICHEL, Central Press Columnist

THE BUDGET will not be balanced. It cannot be. A new emergency will have to be met.

A census of unemployed is not needed to certify that there now are millions.

Local officials are appalled by the calls for relief. They are appalled because, locally, they cannot begin to handle the situation. It is a matter for the federal government.

This column, backed by competent observations, has been making known the fact that "prosperity" has been based largely on government spending.

Indeed, in 1933, when the method of "spending our way out of the depression" and "priming the pump" and forcing prices up by reducing the value of the dollar was instigated, this column remarked that, if the law of economics held true (and when doesn't it?) the apparent prosperity would collapse if free interchange of trade and widespread participation in the production of industry did not occur before the "shot in the arm" wore off.

It also was pointed out that, once the "shot in the arm" was resorted to, all elements of the population would become addicted to it and would continue to demand it even when the doctor became alarmed. And, the column added, the doctor might hesitate and might try to put off the surgical operation necessary —and then the patient might turn the old doctor out and try a fake doctor or two, and eventually go through horrible convulsions.

* * *

WHAT COURSE?

Dr. Roosevelt, himself realizing that a nation cannot spend more than it takes in, or is able to take in, recently began efforts to balance the budget. PWA and WPA were cut to the bone. Nearly every function was cut except military construction.

That was taking the drug away. It would have worked if there had been no international trade barriers and if our own vast population had sufficient purchasing power.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull had not gone far enough with his attempts to batter down trade and monetary walls. Indeed, much of the world was beginning new hate and boycott campaigns. (If you do not believe that affects Americans, merely ask some large exporting corporation.)

And the social and economic measures necessary to lay the foundation for a broader participation of the population in the product of its labor had been halted by stubborn opposition.

It is doubtful whether a bill restricting hours alone would aid. Anything running up costs at the moment simply would create additional burdens. Work will come for millions when costs can be got down, not up. We have to begin at the bottom again, make everything accessible to the mass of people— and have the profits accrue to them, not to a few.

That may sound to some as if it were socialism. Yet it is the advice of some of the soundest and most conservative economists of the day.

WIDER MARKETS

The essential to business is wider markets. And it is the essential also to the worker and the farmer —and the government, which lives off its people.

There are only two sources for those markets: (1) Our own population, which can buy only as it participates in what it produces; and (2) peoples abroad, who can buy only if they can interchange goods and credits freely.

And both are barred, and would be barred as effectively under complete socialization as well as under the private-profit system, if pegged prices are maintained.

* * *

WHEN STOCKS DROPPED—

When security prices dropped, New Dealers blamed the crash on reactionaries trying to discredit the New Deal, while some businessman blamed it on "fear of Roosevelt" or "stringent regulations by SEC." That would be too easy a solution, our economist friends say. Actually, the stock market is a barometer; or, rather, it is a thermometer, for it registers that which already is occurring. Business in basic industries already had receded in percentage more than the stock market drop. (Look up the percentages on steel production.)

Evidently on pressure from the White House, a freight rate increase was granted, margin requirements were reduced by the federal reserve board and President Roosevelt made renewed efforts to balance the budget.

The freight rate increase simply added to the burdens of business and the people and may retard traffic, the loosening up of stock exchange regulations simply gave greater freedom to speculators and gamblers and in no wise benefits the ordinary man, and the efforts to balance the budget simply meant an additional slashing of relief and public works' funds—adding to the

JEFFERSON AND WASHINGTON

While we are confused by the multitude of laws suggested, enacted and declared constitutional or otherwise by the United States supreme court, it would be a fine idea if we would read the record of the decisions of the convention in Philadelphia, which created that remarkable document known as "The Constitution of the United States of America."

Thomas Jefferson was a curious gentleman. Born with a gold spoon in his mouth, he became fascinated by the French revolution. His attitude toward the revolutionary minister from France, Genet, is well described by Wier Mitchell in his novel, "The Red City." Aristocrat in every fiber of his body, he chose to adopt the philosophy of the "San Coulottes" and it was "citizen" this and 'citizen" that when he walked with the "Demos" but "Lord" and "Monsieur" in the drawing rooms of Philadelphia.

The "Christian Science Monitor" recounts an incident happening after the adoption of the constitution:

It seems that he had some doubts regarding the wisdom of having two law-making houses in our national government; and one day he expressed his doubt to Washington.

"You are better informed on such topics than I am," said Washington, "but I will continue to uphold the system of England and America." He watched Jefferson for a moment and then added, "you yourself have proven the excellence of the two houses this very moment."

"I?" exclaimed Jefferson, "how is that, General?"

"You turned your hot cup of tea from the cup to the saucer to get it cool," replied Washington. "It is the same thing we desire in the two houses."

DUCK HUNTER'S WIFE

October and November are lonely days for me.
I used to fret about them, but now no use I see,
For when his work is over and winds are cold and harsh,
He hears the mallards calling off yonder in the marsh.

When first I heard him saying he longed to go away
Where ducks were southward winging I begged of him to stay,
But while the fit was on him, my tears he couldn't see,
Nor could he hear me telling how lonely I should be.

The marsh means something to him a womar cannot know,
And when the ducks are flying, 'tis there he has to go.
I'd call it bleak and bitter; the waters cold and grim,
But he has grown to love it and it's delight for him.

Time was I used to whimper to see him go away.
I thought since we were married, with me he ought to stay.
But men are prone to madness as women folk agree,
And now I've settled to it, though lonely I shall be.

THURSDAY, NOV. 4

Once Upon Nov. 4th—A man who had made life-preservation his profession, invented the first of the deadliest type of life-destroyers.

Seventy five years ago today, that man, Richard Jordan Gatling, 34-year-old North Carolina physician, obtained a patent on a revolving battery of 10 barrels that enabled it to fire 1,200 bullets a minute.

The Gatling gun was first used against the people of Gatlings own South, by the army of Gen. Ben "Butcher" Butler. Foreign military observers with the the federal army realized immediately that it was an invention of tremendous importance and within a year or two it had been adopted by the armies of Britain, Austria-Hungary and other European countries.

Yet it took more than 50 years for most generals to realize that one man sitting behind a machine-gun was equal, perhaps to a thousand with bayonets; that it gave a big advantage to the defensive side. Even after the machine-gun had obviously gained a dominance of the battle-fields in France, the British commander Haig, still insisted that it was "a much overrated weapon."

By World war days, of course, other Americans—Hotchkiss, Browning and notably Maxim, had vastly improved the Gatling gun. So much so that Liddell Hart, No. 1 authority on modern warfare, says the maker of the machine-gun has his name more deeply engraved on the real history of the World war than that of any other man.

Modern Traffic 'Massacres' Cited As Far Overshadowing Early Indian Depredations

(International News Service)

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 4—Present day traffic "massacres" far overshadow the bloodiest depredations of savage Indians in early days in the number of lives taken, Dr. Howard R. Driggs, president of the Oregon Trail Memorial Association and a professor of English at New York university, declared at the annual field conference of the association held here.

Along the old Oregon Trail, he pointed out, lie nearly 20,000 unmarked graves. Of these, only a small portion were killed by Indians. Along high-speed highways paralleling and crossing the trail lie many more thousands marked graves resulting from traffic mishaps.

"We of the Oregon Trail Association are not concerned with an attempt to regulate speed on our modern highways" Dr. Driggs said, "but we are concerned in having traveling America slow down enough to become acquainted with the west's historical landmarks."

Oregon Trail Long Famous

A half million Americans followed the old Oregon trail and its branches from Independence, Mo., to Oregon and California between 1840 and 1870, Dr. Driggs said.

"It is our hope to have Americans go to these 20,000 graves not to weep but to learn something of the farther west's great history," he stated. "Each year thousands of Americans go to Europe, not to see scenery because we can better that, but they are attracted by the traditions and historical sites in the old countries."

Four objectives were sought by the conference here. They were: acceleration of the monumenting and landmarks program, with each state to have at least one outstanding monument; education of the young American in the story of the building of the West; participation by communities by erecting and dedicating monuments and historical shrines, and establishment of the Oregon trail literary award, encouraging authors to turn their efforts toward producing novels portraying various phases of the conquest of the West.

Example of modern ethics: Condemn others for bombing the helpless; try to build the world's best bombers.

als had the power to make war, but not to end it. Having created it, they found themselves helpless puppets in the grip of Hiram Maxim, who with his machine-gun, had paralyzed the power of attack. All efforts to break the defense grip of the machine-gun were vain; they could only raise tombstones and not triumphal arches."

On Other Nov. 4ths—1773—Miss Elizabeth "Betsy" Griscom, 21, eloped from Philadelphia with George Ross, and became the Betsy Ross of history.

1775—Continental Congress directed that a pint of milk and a quart of beer be issued daily to each U. S. soldier.

1780—William Palfrey, 39, of Boston, was named consul-general to France—the first appointment made in the consular and diplomatic service of the U. S. He never reached his post: His ship was never heard of after it left the Delaware capes.

1840—British, French and Austrian forces captured Acres, Near East seaport, after a long seige during which cigarettes were invented. Tobacco was plentiful but pipes were scarce, and French soldiers began rolling tobacco and smoking the rolls like cigars. They took the habit home with them, and the cigarette industry was born.

1865—Dr. Chevalier Jackson, world famous Philadelphia inventor of surgical instruments and surgeon specializing in removal of foreign bodies from the lungs and respiratory tract, was born, in Pittsburgh.

1879—The late Will Rogers was born in Oologah, Okla., which also is the home town of Cal Tinney, closest of the Rogers imitators.

1879—The first successful cash register was patented by James J. Ritty, Dayton, O., businessman, who got the idea for it while watching a recording machine on a ship.

ple dare talk about. He talked of foundation things. Of Virtue. Of Patriotism. Of Immortality. Of Justice. Of Wisdom. Of Friendship. Of Death. He asked you questions.

If you were a "great" statesman, a "great" artist or a "great" soldier he tried to discover how much you really knew. He turned you inside out, picked away at your brains and displayed all your seamy pretensions to the laughing young men of Athens.

And so, of course, in self-defense you hated him. You consled yourself with other important people whom he had annoyed, and finally you agreed, all of you, that someone should be persuaded to bring charges against him of "neglecting the gods" and "corrupting the youth"—all those laughing young men who adored him.

But when you put him on the stand and asked him to defend himself he did not do it, and merely delivered a lecture. When you found him guilty of this and that and asked him to name his punishment he suggested he be pensioned for life. You ordered him to drink poison, but he took all the satisfaction out of his judges by saying to them: "We go our ways, I to die and you to live. Which is better, God alone knows."

So he talked gently for several hours with his young friends before his death. One of them wept because Socrates was "about to die undeservedly." He smiled and answered: "My dearest Apollodorus, would you rather see me die DESERVEDLY?" And when they asked him what they should do with his body, he replied:

"You may do with it what you like, provided you do not imagine it to be me."

And how could anybody help thinking tenderly of a wise and brave old fellow like that?

Americanism: Big-town people unable to hire servants at good wages; thousands of servants on relief, where a few hours of piddling provide a living.

burdens of local taxing units and intensifying human misery.

* * *

WHAT WE MAY EXPECT?

Evidently that "medicine" has not taken. If the patient develops worse symptoms, we may expect very soon:

Work relief on a larger scale than ever, immense federal housing projects, added power projects, great irrigation and land reclamation programs. If the power projects continue, there evidently will be socialization of the power industry. (That is what power people themselves are saying, gloomily.) Other basic industries, such as railroads and mines and shipping, may follow.

Income taxes undoubtedly will be raised within a year or two; they will become more general. Gift and inheritance taxes also are likely to be increased.

A MOMENTOUS SESSION

This coming special session of congress may be the most momentous of the Roosevelt administration.

Of course, if the government goes into spending again, "prosperity" will return once more, perhaps in greater degree than ever—till the next "shot in the arm" wears out.

P. S.: Wall Street is betting that the government will spend.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

Bruce Barton, Republican Congress Victor Discusses His Election

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Bruce Barton, the advertising executive elected to Congress as a Republican, said he was chosen by voters who thought a business man was needed in a government which "while expressing the highest ideals, has made us all the victims of bad management."

"I did not attack the objectives of the New Deal", he said in a prepared statement. "That would be silly. We are all in favor of the objectives. Nobody wants panics or unemployment or to have any part of our people 'ill-fed, ill-clothed, ill-housed'. What we criticize is just plain bad management which defeats the objectives.

"If the President were to ask today, as he once did, 'Are you better off than you were last year?" a majority of the voters in the seventeenth district would answer 'No'."

'Twins Tangle' At Pittsburgh Solved Today

Judge John H. Wilson Of Butler, Straightens Out "Topsy-Turvy" Tangle

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—The mix-up over Pittsburgh's "topsy-turvy" twins was solved temporarily at least today by Visiting Judge John H. Wilson of Butler county.

He issued an order directing them to divide their time between their "mother", Mrs. Elva May Burrmaster Bales Tortorice, who asserted she faked motherhood to receive her husband's three unmarried sisters, and their "father", William S. Bales, who just as vehemently maintained they were born naturally to the wife from whom he is now divorced.

To Divide Time.

Under the court order the boys, William and Francis, are to live with Mrs. Tortorice while going to school and use the name of their "stepfather". They will live with Bales and use his name during vacations. And they are to spend every second week while going to school with Bales and his three maiden sisters.

Mrs. Tortorice signed an affidavit saying the children were taken from a home in Philadelphia while infants and placed in bed with her in a maternity hospital where she feigned motherhood because she feared her husband's sisters would object to spending money to raise children adopted and not her own.

PERSONAL MENTION

Max Rosen, Wilmington avenue, who has been ill, has recovered.

Death Claims Noted Banker

Henry M. Robinson, 69, Dies In Pasadena, Was Friend Of Five Presidents

WILL BE BURIED AT YOUNGSTOWN, O.

(International News Service)

PASADENA, Cal., Nov. 4.—Messages of sympathy throughout the nation poured into the home today of Henry M. Robinson, 69, whose death yesterday ended a long and varied career in the world of banking and national affairs.

He was the confidante of presidents and world leaders, a noted philanthropist and a member of numerous national commissions. He also was one of the few Americans who ever served under five presidents of the United States on special missions without holding public office, save those of special wartime service.

Death came to Robinson as the result of a spinal injury suffered in a fall at his home several months ago.

Buried At Youngstown

Funeral services will be conducted here tomorrow and his body will be sent to Youngstown, O., for entombment in his widow's family mausoleum.

At the time of his death, Robinson was chairman of the board of the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles and a director in numerous Southern California enterprises.

Following an active legal and industrial career in Ohio where he was instrumental in the development of the steel industry in Youngstown, Robinson moved to California in 1906, and soon became an active figure in the development of Southern California, financially and industrially.

At the outbreak of the World War he aided the establishment of the United States Council of National Defense, he later became commissioner of the Shipping Board and had much to do with the supply and transportation of American troops.

Declined Posts

President Wilson named him as a member of the peace conference.

President Wilson later offered him a cabinet position, and in later years two other presidents were to make him similar offers, but he declined.

He was a member of President Hoover's stabilization conference after the 1929 stock market crash, and of the organization on unemployment relief.

Robinson was also an officer of the French Legion of Honor, a commander of the Crown of Belgium and an officer of the Crown of Italy.

Study Draft Of New Farm Bill

Study Tentative Draft Of Bill Designated To Spend $800,000,000

By ROBERT HUMPHREYS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4—House agriculture committee members today studied a tentative draft of an $800,000,000 permanent farm bill which would raise $225,000,000 of the amount through processing taxes.

Revenue derived from the new taxes would be expected to match cost increase above the present soil conservation and surplus disposal program for which approximately $600,000,000 was made available this year. The president last month warned the committee that increased costs must be met by additional taxes.

May Change Tax

As now drafted, the measure would levy 3 cents per pound against cotton and 20 cents a bushel on wheat and rice. With the possible exception that the rice tax might be changed to one-half cent per pound, members were represented as "leaning strongly" to the proposals to complete the financial structure of the new program.

Continuation of the $475,000,000 soil conservation program and re-enactment of existing law making approximately $100,000,000 in customs receipts available annually for surplus crop disposal, have already been agreed on.

Although corn and tobacco, like wheat, rice, and cotton will be brought under the control program there is strong opposition on the committee of processing taxes on either commodity.

Missing Actress Found In Texas

Was Picked Up By Motorist In Los Angeles And Taken To Del Rio, Texas

(International News Service)

DEL RIO Tex., Nov. 4.—The mysterious disappearance of Alyce Dera, New York actress, was solved today when it was learned she has been in the county jail of this border city since Monday night.

Sheriff A. E. Steinmetz said the actress had appeared at the jail, telling him she was stranded and was unable to recall a trip from Los Angeles to Del Rio.

The sheriff questioned a man who said he picked her up standing beside the highway near Los Angeles. His hitchhiker companion, Sheriff Steinmetz quoted the man as saying, slept most of the way from the coast.

When asked where she was headed, the man said the woman replied, "I don't care where I go."

Hope Dim For Labor Peace

Negotiators To Resume Efforts To Compose Differences At Conference

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Labor's peace negotiators were to resume efforts to compose their internecine strife today with the factions farther apart than when a deadlock forced a recess eight days ago.

A move by John L. Lewis to sweep American Federation of Labor Furniture Workers into one big industrial union of the Committee for Industrial Organization has embittered the A. F. of L. President William Green has branded the plan "a war like gesture."

On the other hand, Federation votes helped to swamp the CIO's Detroit mayoralty candidate, Patrick H. O'Brien, thus blocking the Lewis organization's first bid for political power in a major American city.

A. F. of L. strategists have given warning the fight on CIO candidates will be intensified in the 1938 campaign should the faltering parley for reunion collapse.

The deadlock arises from the CIO's insistence on complete autonomy as a condition for re-entering the Federation. The A. F. of L. demands the Lewis group dissolve.

An urgent "get together" plea by Senator Berry (D) of Tennessee left both sides apparently unmoved. Berry, former industrial coordinator for President Roosevelt, co-founder with Lewis of labor's non-partisan league, and head of the pressmen's union, wrote Green and Lewis that the national welfare demands the strife be stopped.

Ostensibly the quarrel has its roots in a difference over organizing technique—the CIO championing industrial unions and the Federation espousing organization by crafts.

However, a Federation pledge to conduct an "aggressive" organizing campaign on both craft and industrial lines provided one plank of its peace platform.

Evidencing the deep mistrust on both sides, the CIO denounced the plan as a scheme to wreck industrial unionism, while the A. F. of L. has attacked the Lewis autonomy demand as a bid for dictatorial power.

TRAILER OWNERS NOW SCHOOLED IN TRAVELING ART

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. — Trailer travelers are going to school here under Capt. Jose Mifsud, a pioneer in the art of traveling with a house on wheels hitched to the rear of an automobile.

You may wonder what the trailer traveler needs to learn. The answer is—plenty.

Capt. Mifsud teaches, among other things, how to hitch and unhitch the trailer, how to back into a parking space (which is like trying to put a ferry in its slip with the tide runing the other direction), what things to take on a trailers trip and how to store them for greatest economy of space, how to pass cars on the road (you've got to allow three car lengths before you dare pull in front of another car), and how best to use the tiny facilities the trailer offers for dining, living and sleeping.

"Just why do you want a married man to work for you, rather than a bachelor?" asked the curious chap.

Germany Lays Claim To Finest Roads To Be Found In World

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Nov. 4. — Within four years after work on the new German Auto Road system began on September 23, 1933, 1,000 miles of concrete two-way roads has been completed.

Another 1,000 miles are already under construction, and 300 of these will be opened to the public by the end of this year. By 1941 the total of 5,000 miles of auto roads planned so far, will be completed, giving Germany the finest automobile roads in the world, according to an official statement published by the Reich's Auto Road Administration.

12,000 Bridges Necessary

Since the auto roads as far as possible follow a straight line between two major cities, and crossings have been completely avoided, no less than 12,000 bridges and tunnels had to be provided for the 5,000 mile road net. So far, 3,250 bridges and tunnels have been completed.

A maximum of 250,000 workers of all kinds have been employed by the Auto Road Administration. Now, that unemployment has been practically overcome and even a shortage of skilled labor exists in some German industries, the number of road workers has been considerably reduced and modern machinery is being used to a larger extent.

Mrs. Harry Gibson of Gardner and some of her little folks went to West Middlesex to see her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Mayrs, and found the latter is improving.

Mildred, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Hay, of Gardner proved a charming hostess to a group of young friends whom she invited to a Hallowe'en party on Saturday. There were some funny costumes and much merriment in guessing which chum was concealed under their stange attire. There were some lively games and contests which were greatly enjoyed by the little folks until Mrs. Hay served a very delicious and colorful lunch which was greatly appreciated by all. Harriet Walker and Gertrude Moore won prizes.

Slickers Working Marble Boards Here

Police received information last night that a trio of young men have been trying to rob marble machines here. While two of them linger or play the machine the third engages the store proprietor in conversation. One of the two then uses a wrench and robs the money container, police have been informed.

COMPENSATION

"This is a very small bit of chicken you have given me, waiter," complained the diner.

"Yes, sir," replied the waiter, under notice anyhow, "but you will find it will take you a long time to eat it."

Called Away By Relatives Death

George W. Patterson, East Brook, was called to New York City this morning by the sudden death of his brother-in-law, S. L. Owens.

Patterson will remain in New York until after the funeral services have been conducted on Friday.

Police Searching For Electric Motor

Police are seeking a 500-pound electric motor which Louis Wine, 314 Leasure avenue, had stored at a West Grant street plant, and which he claims was stolen, possibly for the brass that was in the motor. It was stolen several nights ago, it is believed.

Union Barbers Hold Banquet

Dine On Italian Salad, Spaghetti And Chicken Here Last Night

MUSIC, SONGS DANCES PREVAIL

Several score members of the Journeymen Barbers International Union of America laid aside their razors, clippers and scissors at closing time last night, hurried to a local banquet hall and picking up spoons, knives and forks did full justice to one of the most delightful dinners they have yet held.

The course consisted of Italian salad, spaghetti and a half chicken. After coffee and cigars had been served the union barbers lolled back in their chairs and heard the master of ceremonies, Lou Coast, and his partner of theatrical days, Frank Winfield, of Chicago, in a monologue that was crammed full of humor.

Andy Candioto entertained with several songs and then with Griff Lewis as his partner executed a "monologue" that was decidedly witty. They rendered several songs to the accompaniment of a banjo played by Candioto. Bill Shuliff performed a tap dance which reminded those present of Lanigan-Covert days. Billy Covert entertained with tricks in magic.

Among those introduced were two charter members, Andy Hoke and Joe McCaskey, Sr. The local was organized in 1901. They were given rousing applause. At different times between musical numbers presented by Tunney Copple and Sam Mangeri, the master of ceremonies called upon members for brief talks, all of whom responded.

The officers of Local 278 are president, Frank Mele; vice president, Harry Micaletti; secretary-treasurer, Frank Fazzone; corresponding secretary, Lee Lutz guide, Charles Michaels. All these gentlemen spoke. Mele explained the value of membership in the organization, told of its achievements and of the objects for which it has stood since 1901.

The banquet ended about 10 p. m. after having given a vote of thanks to the entertainers, the food committee consisting of Phil Sunceri and Clem Robel and the chef, Sam DiFilippo, and according to the members, it is anticipated that it will be one of the many features planned for their local.

AROUND CITY HALL

Mayor Charles E. McGrath has asked the State motor police at Harrisburg for information concerning whether or not that organization intends to conduct a training school for municpal officers. The present civil service eligiblity list for city police officers expires next month. At present there are several men who are serving in a temporary capacity. They must be reappointed every 10 days. Under the provisions of a city ordinance no one can be named permanently to a city police berth unless he has passed a civil service test and also passed the tests given by the state organization.

Police department receipts for the month of October amounted to $1,520.95, according to Chief of Police Ralph A. Criswell. Of this amount $183.00, was paid by dance hall proprietors and persons who wanted to hold dances. Four hundred and forty-six arrests were made. One person was arrested on a charge of murder. Of the 446 one hundred and fifteen were discharged by Mayor Charles E. McGrath in police court.

Two hundred and five autoists violated the parking ordinance during October, according to Chief Ralph A. Criswell. Sixteen others violated traffic regulations. Seventeen others paid fines for speeding. One autoist was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated and another was arrested on suspicion of operating a car while intoxicated.

Persons were listed as keepers of disorderly houses and 24 as visitors therein by city police last month. This charge is placed against persons who are the head of a house where there is too much noise, too much drinking, gambling and whatnot. In fact, it can be placed against operators of automobiles if there is noise, drinking or gambling in automobiles. The ordinance was passed years ago and is wide in latitude.

Eighty-nine persons were taken into custody by city police during last month on a charge of drunkenness and 29 others faced the twin charge of not only being intoxicated but having committed disorder. Twenty-five others were arrested on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Grove City Back In Republican Fold

GROVE CITY, Pa., Nov. 4.—Republicans will fill every borough office for the first time in more than a decade as the result of sweeping victories at Tuesday's election.

W. W. Van Eman, Democratic burgess for the past two terms and a perennial winner in a Republican stronghold, was one of the victims of the landslide, losing to H. A. Young, his Republican opponent, nearly two to one.

Pine township, Democratic in the past two elections, veered to the GOP by electing Republican school directors, supervisors, tax collectors and auditor.

Clarence Dent of Aliquippa, who suffered a broken leg several weeks ago when his automobile was involved in a collision with one of the trucks of Mooney Brothers on the Youngstown road, has been discharged from treatment at the Jameson Memorial hospital. Dent had suffered a broken left leg.

TAKE WEIGHT OFF TIRED FEET

Lose Fat The Easy Way — Without Starvation Diets, or Back-Breaking, Bending and Rolling Exercises.

If your feet and ankles feel tired and ache all over — because you are carrying too much fat — do something about it. Try the treatment that has helped millions to reduce excess weight.

There's a reason why so many people find dieting slow and often times futile in reducing. The reason, doctors say, is often because a little gland is not working right.

All the blood in your body goes through this tiny gland sixteen times every day. If it doesn't pour into the blood stream about one and one-half drops of vital fluid every 24 hours, many people take on ugly fat. This fluid helps Nature to "burn up" excess food and fatty tissue in much the same way as a good "draft" acts in a furnace.

Now, physicians combat this condition by feeding this gland the substance it lacks — and millions of pounds of excess fat has been wiped out in this way.

Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on the same method used by doctors. So don't waste your time or money striving to reduce with starvation diets or back-breaking exercises. Start the Marmola treatment today that millions have used successfully to get rid of excess fat. The formula is in every box so you know just what you are taking. Don't wait — get a box of Marmola today from your druggist.

Jack Doyle Is Not Worrying

Will Fight To Last Ditch To Protect Reputation Of Mrs. Delphine Godde

IS BEING SUED FOR $2,000,000

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4—Expressing indifference over the possibility of losing $2,000,000 (which he doesn't have) Jack Doyle, song-bird of the prize ring, today declared he was ready to give "his all" to defend the reputation of his fiancee, Mrs. Delphine Dodge Godde, the motor heiress.

The Irish thrust flew here from Hollywood to devote his varied talents to the defense of the $2,000,000 suit of his former wife Judith Allen, against Mrs. Godde, or Miss Dodge as the British heavyweight boxer refers to her.

Bend Every Effort

"I will use every resource—financially, mentally, morally—to defend Miss Dodge," he declared. "Don't think I mind the $2,000,000. It is the protection of Miss Dodge's reputation that matters."

Doyle than casually revealed Mrs. Godde planned to "throw a party" for the Duke of Windsor in Washington and he, Doyle, would be there to greet "his buddy the Duke.' The songbird declared he became friendly with Edward, then Prince of Wales, in 1929 when he was captain of the Irish guards in front of Buckingham Palace.

Mrs. Godde will be in Washington in two weeks, Doyle said. Meanwhile he will confer with detectives, gather witnesses for the lawsuit and later dash over to Londonn for more witnesses when the local supply runs out.

Denies Report

Mrs. Godde was reported enroute here today from Hollywood by motor.

Denying Mrs. Godde gave him a birthday present of $25,000 Jack said she really gave him 25 books and a harmonica.

"Even if Miss Dodge is one of the richest women in the world, I'm interested only in her sincerity and sweetness," he added.

Regarding Miss Allen, Doyle opined the screen actress was "badly advised."

Youth Held For Daring Attempt To Wreck Train

Two Youths Held In Pittsburgh Jail, Tried To Wreck "Capitol Limited"

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4. — Two youths were held in the county jail here today after police said they admitted attempting to wreck the "Capital Limited," a Baltimore and Ohio flyer near Layton, Pa., last week "to get the money to go west."

The pair held was Louis Fischer, 20, and William Chick, 16. The speeding train was saved from probable derailment and subsequent loss of life only by the alertness of a signal tower attendant who flagged the limited a short distance from a switch on which a lock had been broken.

Women Cut In Domestic Quarrel

(International News Service)

Mrs. Lucille Elizabeth Williams is in the Jameson Memorial hospital with paring knife wounds on her face and her husband, Napoleon, is held in the city jail on a charge of suspicion. A sister to Mrs. Williams, Miss Cecilia Crawford, was taken to the city building for questioning in connection with the case. All are colored.

It was said today by Detective Chief Ray Showalter that the husband told him Mrs. Williams picked up a paring knife and in the struggle for its possession, she was cut. The sister attempted to act as peace maker. She received a cut on the back of her hand.

New York Has Night Nomads

Small Army Of Men And Women Shun Daylight And Come Out Only At Night

SOCIETY LOSES SEVERAL FIGURES

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 4—The metropolis has a small army of men and women rarely seen until after midnight. And in the manner of night birds they vanish with dawn. While generally harmless, they are as mysterious as the blackness that envelops them. They seem to know no one.

O. O. McIntyre

Mostly they wander about residential streets, always alone. A large number have been involved in head-line escapades, long since forgotten. Some are ex-prisoners hugging a martyrdom and shunning a society they they feel might stare at them in the clarity of daylight.

Too, there is a sprinkling of the abjectly pathetic, wraith-like figures who shrink with a mild neurosis from every human contact. The world calls them "touched". Every large hotel and apartment house has a quota of such moon-gazers.

There are records showing that some of them have not been out in daytime for almost a lifetime. The women among the nocturnal nomads are mostly past middle age. Two of them once occupied one of the finest old mansions on the avenue. Only police and night-watchmen see them.

They are called "flits". A rather triumphant phrasing for that increasing swarm of lavender boys who caught the idea from the London stage that it's smart to be effeminate. The appellative is said to have stemmed from the proclivity of the genus to swish about with arms upraised and wrists dangling or arms akimbo. There are several at every tea among the theatre folk and their cavorting is featured at every first night. London reports a distinct reaction against the flits in the theatre and other arty circles but, sad to say, the casts of imported English plays show no thinning of the usual quotas.

The passing of Osgood Perkins, expiring suddenly after the first performance of a new play being tried out at Washington, deprives the theatre of a vivid personality. He typified the new type of actor who helped lift the stage from vagabondage. Well born, a Harvard, he played the piano and violin, and painted an acceptable landscape. He was one who made his art a business and never trifled with it. He gave his all to a part and demanded as much of his associates. The adlibber who short-weighed his audience never repeated when the Perkins tongue had lashed out at him. Only once, at a Brock Pemberton tea, did I ever see him out of his stage role. He was one who refused to be typed. After setting a new high as a portrayer of hard-boiled comedy parts, he held out for months until he was cast differently. One of the most sought-after actors, he thought each part would be his last. And the only feature of his dramatic death he would have felt badly about was inconveniencing the management. To him the business of dying would have meant just another exit!

Still another sudden passing that seemed to stun New York was that of Ogden L. Mills. He represented the highest type of citizenship, an "economic royalist" who gave freely of his time and huge fortune for human betterment. The metropolis, more than any city I know, reacts to such losses. The morning the news of Will Rogers' tragic ending was received was a striking illustration. It is a matter of record that business all over town came to a sudden standstill. The theatres and movies that night were deserted. There was a big banquet that had 1,100 paid acceptances. Only a few more than 300 came. Will was articled to the same outfit that syndicates my wares and which, if I may say, is efficiently geared. But there was scarcely a wheel turning that day. From Toots, the office boy, to Driscoll, chief editor, they just sat and stared. And in my memory the passing of no public figure has created a greater void.

Thingumbobs: Gen. Hugh Johnson's radio and column income is now more than the president's salary. . . . Sam Goldwyn bought 5,000 copies of the magazine that recently ran his biography. . . . The newest Broadway columnist, Dan Walker, was once a secretary to Alexander Woollcott. . . . Rex Cole takes 50 friends to every championship fight, following a grand beefsteak dinner.

I saw one of Webster's "Timid Souls" in real life at the Marguery the other evening. He came in hatless but as he went out gave the hat check girl a nickel.

On Court House Hill

To Charles Mehard, judge of election in the fourth district of Wayne township, belongs the distinction of being the first election official to bring in election returns to the county commissioners office Tuesday night. Mehard, with James Rapp, inspector in the same district, arrived shortly after 10 o'clock. Mehard also had the honor of being the first to bring in his election returns at the September primary.

First returns of Tuesday's election in the city of New Castle were brought to the county commissioners office by Stephen Zidow, judge, and Paul Zarilla, inspector, in the second district of the Seventh ward. Their returns were brought in around 11 o'clock.

Judges James A. Chambers and W. Walter Braham alternated in sitting on the bench on election day. Judge Braham arrived in the morning just as the court house clock was striking 7 o'clock. He remained on the bench until noon when he was relieved by Judge Chambers who served until 10 o'clock at night. The law requires that court be in session continuously from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m. on election day.

Registration Clerk Thomas Edmunds was kept on the jump on election day owing to the failure of election boards to find the names of some voters, who declared that they had ben registered, but whose names the board was unable to find. In every case where Edmunds was called he succeeded in finding the names, which for one reason or another the boards had overlooked. In two or three instances the registrants had used nick names, which caused the mixup.

One of the questions which arose while election boards were counting ballots Tuesday night was what to do with ballots on which there had been erasures. The law says that such ballots are not to be counted. The ballots are printed on a particularly sensitive paper and it was comparatively easy to detect when erasures had been made. According to reports there were not many ballots that had to be thrown out.

While Lawrence county constables had to serve without pay at both the primary and the general election, they are considering a petition to court for a ruling, such as has been given in some other counties. In Adams, York, Delaware, Erie and Northampton counties, the local courts have ruled that the provisions of the election laws requiring constables to serve without pay, is unconstitutional, and the constables in those counties received pay, pending an appeal to the supreme court. It may be that the Lawrence county constables will await a supreme court decision before taking action. Many of the constables are employed at other occupations and had to lose a day's work attending the polls.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard reports that he did not receive a call from any election district of the county on Tuesday. Since deputy constables have been eliminated, it is the duty of the sheriff to preserve order at the polls, should there be any infractions of the law. It is to the credit of Lawrence county citizenry that the election passed off quietly in all districts.

The pay of boards holding the election is as follows: The judge of election receives $5 for serving on the board, $2.50 for bringing in the returns and one dollar per hundred votes or fraction over one hundred ballots cast. The minority inspector is paid on the same basis and the majority inspector receives $5 and one dollar per hundred or fraction for all ballots over one hundred cast. Clerks receive the same. There are five persons on each election board.

Official count of the vote cast at Tuesday's election will be started at noon on Friday, November 5. It will not be as big a job as it was to count the primary vote, as few names were written in on the ballots. At the primary there were hundreds of names written in and as a result it took the tellers about twice as long as usual to make the count.

While most of the return sheets for use of the public were made out correctly by the election boards, there were quite a number where the board tabulated the votes cast for township or borough offices, without giving the name of the office for which the vote was cast. However, those who make the official count will be able to straighten this out by reference to the tally sheets.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE
Caused by Tired Kidneys
Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.
If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Four Of Five Amendments Voted Down In State

Party Leaders Check Results

Amendments Backed By Democratic Administration Fail Of Approval

BOTH PARTIES CLAIM GAINS IN ELECTION

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 4—Democratic and Republican party heads checked over the political dies today to see how they stood the rush of ballots in Tuesday's municipal elections in Pennsylvania.

The election scorecard, on the basis of nearly complete, unofficial returns, showed these results:

Of the five proposed constitutional amendments, only one—validating old age pensions and mothers assistance——met approval of the electorate. Other amendments provided for removal of the "time lock" for constitutional amendment, a graduated income tax, consolidation of the city-county governments in Philadelphia and a $42,000,000 bond issue for building purposes. With exception of the bond issue, the amendments were backed by the Democratic administration.

Of the more than two score judgeship races, Democrats claimed 17, the Republicans won 11 and 16 candidates on the two-party ticket were elected .

Even In Mayoralty Battles.

The major parties broke about even in the mayoralty fights. Democratic chief executives were placed in office in a dozen of the cities electing mayors and Republicans elected ten mayoral candidates.

Republican leaders claimed certain gains in the old Republican strongholds, some of which swung into the Democratic column during the last presidential election.

In the "capitol city" county, Dauphin, Republicans elected Karl E. Richards, Republican, to the new orphans court judgeship, to which J. Dress Pannell, Democrat, was named by Governor Earle. Richards, former district attorney, led by more than 5,000 votes.

Amish tobacco farmers in Lancaster county showed their determination to fight for retention of the "little red schoolhouse" by electing a brother of one of the leaders in the fight, David B. Zook, to the school board. The sect fought the idea of sending their children to the new consolidated school because it was built with PWA money. Religious beliefs prevent them from contracting debts. The governor recently, after much protest, permitted them to use the old smaller schools.

Slippery Rock In Republican Ranks

SLIPPERY ROCK, Pa., Nov. 4.—The Republican nominees swept into all borough offices here, with majorities of almost 3 to 1 at Tuesday's election. D. C. Porter is the new burgess. Jack McDonald and Ralph McBride were named school directors.

A. P. Vincent, W. A. Baker and C. C. Grine were returned to council. Mrs. Frances McMullen was re-elected tax collector. Raymond P. Boyer was named justice of the peace. Mrs. Edna Dight was returned as assessor and Mrs. George Shremp is the new auditor. Fred Baker is judge of election, and C. S. Moore was named inspector of election.

It happened to me

—maybe, I was lucky.

It happened this way: I found myself in a run-down condition . . . I was listless . . . despondent . . . my appetite was lagging . . . I was losing weight.

I wasn't desperate, as I knew I had no organic trouble . . . but I was puzzled as to why I was losing ground.

I was lucky because a friend suggested that I try S.S.S. Tonic . . . she said it had greatly benefited her in building back her strength and now she felt like her old self again.

You, too, will want to take S.S.S. Tonic to regain and to maintain your red-blood-cells . . . to restore lost weight . . . to regain energy . . . to strengthen nerves . . . and to give your skin that natural health glow.

At all drug stores in two convenient sizes. The larger size at a saving in price. There is no substitute for this time tested remedy. No ethical druggist will suggest something "just as good."

TOWN ADOPTS 'NO CHURCH NO CRIME' SLOGAN

(International News Service)

WALCOTT, Ia.—This little town of 398 population is probably the only community of its size in the country without a church building, congregation, church services or a minister.

The town slogan is "no church, no crime."

Until 1936 there had never been any serious law violations.

But this year, the townspeople were shocked when they learned that burglars broke into the post office and stole $200 worth of postage stamps.

Do Christmas Mailing Early, Uncle Sam Says

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4—The post office department today warned against delay in mailing Christmas packages designated for foreign countries.

A Yuletide gift designed for delivery in Siam must reach New York by November 17. If the shipment is by way of Pacific coast ports mailing can be delayed to November 20.

Mailing dates from New York include: England, France, Germany and Ireland, December 15; Scotland, December 13; Russia, December 8, and from the Pacific Coast, China, December —; Japan, December 11; Hawaii, December 11.

Sharon Strongly In G. O. P. Ranks

SHARON, Pa., Nov. 4.—Complete election returns from the city's precincts today showed every office except one was won by Republicans. The lone Democrat victor was Jerry Reardon, who defeated Martin Lyons for county assessor in the First ward.

Republican Councilmen Ralph Johnston and James L. Bailey and Republican School Directors Elmer L. Bieber and George E. Heiges were re-elected, as were Republican Alderman Fred C. Lewis of the Second ward, W. C. Applegate of the Third ward and Hayes T. Brooks of the Fourth ward.

Charcoal Drive Engine Feature New French Autos

Lack Of French Gasoline Supplies Is Responsible For Change

(International News Service)

PARIS—Repeated war scares of the past year and continued European tension have been strikingly reflected in a hitherto unaffected field—the French Automobile Salon.

Emphasizing France's total lack of Domestic gasoline and the likelihood of her maritime communications being cut in time of war, thereby depriving the country of all foreign supplies, many French automobile manufacturers strongly advocate charcoal-drive engines.

Side by side with huge modern American gasoline trucks, French manufacturers show equally large charcoal driven dreadnoughts bearing the slogan: "France has no gasoline; but she has unlimited forests."

Passenger Models Limited

But only one automobile manufacturer shows a charcoal drive passenger model; it looks similar to a pre-depression sedan.

A charcoal burner, capable of carrying enough charcoal for 300 kilometers, is contained in a trunk-like case at the rear, and once sufficient gas has been generated for a start the automobile works like any other with automatic electric starter and synchonized gear-changes.

For several years the French army has been experimenting with charcoal drives for its trucks and artillery tractors but this year for the first time the principle has been adapted to automobiles and commercial trucks.

Charcoal dumps for army use have been established in strategic points throughout the country and charcoal kilns may be seen scattered throughout the forests all over the country.

Republicans Win In Butler County

BUTLER, Pa., Nov. 4—Final returns show that the Republican ticket won all important offices in city and county, placing Paul J. Tebay, in the sheriff's office and Paul Doerr in that of county treasurer. George M. Thompson, incumbent, was elected mayor; E. Brooks Wise, city controller; Charles Barnhart and J. Newton Riddle, for council and Breaden Douthett and R. J. Ferguson as school directors.

W. H. Kummer, Democrat, carried the city by 200 votes over J. Paul Doerr for county treasurer, but this lead was overcome by the heavy vote for Doerr in the county.

Hints On Etiquette

The salutations "Dear Madam" and "Dear Sir" should never be used in social letters. These forms are reserved strictly for business correspondence.

Largest Hanger Is Planned For Miami

Two Structures Now Under Way By Pan American Airways

(International News Service)

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 4—Miami is soon to have one of the world's largest aircraft hangars.

Pan American Airways has started excavating work for an enormous twin steel structure containing 76,000 square feet.

The site is at famous old "Dinner Key" now famous as the International Pan American Airport on South Bayshore Drive. The hangar will occupy a portion of the space between the smaller hangars at the base and the United States Coastguard.

One of the structures, to be 210x180 feet, will include two large adjoining shop buildings, the one on the south being three stories high, and the one on the north two stories high. To accommodate the Clipper ships in Pan American's service at present and still larger ones with enormous wing spans to come, the huge hangar has an open floor space 150x190 feet in size, with 35 feet clear "head room." The steel hulls of the present Clippers stand some 25 feet above the ground and their wings have a spread of 118 feet. Future ships will be both of greater wing span and greater height, officials said, and the new hangar is designed to accommodate them .

The second structure at the same site is already under way. This will house Pan American's Miami motor and machine shops. It is 100x180 feet in size, a monitor type steel structure, two stories in height on its eastern portion. The building will contain 22,600 feet of floor space. Footings and foundations are now completed and the erection of the structural steel will start shortly.

Entire floor space of the two buildings will total 76,000 square feet and will give PAA 118,600 square feet of hangar space at the International Pan American Airport when they are completed.

Five Navy Fliers Killed In Crash

Planes Collide In Air Near Seattle, Wash., Two Saves Lives By Jumping

(International News Service)

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 4.—Five U. S. navy fliers were killed Wednesday when two navy planes collided at an altitude of 1,500 feet, a mile south of Boeing Field.

Two other fliers saved their lives by "bailing out" with parachutes.

The ships, a large Douglas amphibian and a small, open cockpit plane, were heading in from the south for Boeing Field. Apparently one pilot made a false turn, bringing the planes together.

As they crashed, the men in the smaller ship leaped out and floated to earth with their parachutes.

The two planes, locked in a mass of wreckage, crashed to earth. All occupants of the amphibian apparently were killed instantly.

WATCH THE NEEDLE!

Are YOU Using Enough Light?

Are you sure that your favorite reading or sewing lamp gives enough light for easy seeing? Are you sure the children aren't straining their eyes and possibly harming them for life, under lamps dim or glaring? Now you can find out, through the Light Meter — a wonderful instrument that measures light as accurately as a thermometer measures temperature. It tells you whether your lighting is good or bad and shows you how much light you ought to have!

This Light Meter was perfected by scientists after years of research to determine the relation of light to sight. They found that seeing involves more than our eyes . . . it involves our nerves, muscles, and minds. When you have a headache or feel fatigued and depressed---poor lighting may be the cause!

Good lighting safeguards your eyes. It is soft and glareless and even. Dark shadows are banished. Eyes tire quickly when they look from bright light into shadows, for the pupils must be continually adjusting themselves. That's why a room should always be evenly lighted. This is the kind of lighting an I. E. S. Lamp gives you.

Your Lighting Checked FREE

Now you can find out without spending a penny, whether or not your home has sufficient light of the proper kind. Ask us to send a home Lighting Advisor to your home. Thoroughly trained to give you expert advice on lighting. The light Meter will show you how good your lighting is. You really should know.

Sight Is Priceless--Light Is Cheap

The average cost for proper lighting in a living room is only approximately 6c a day —the price of 8 cigarettes!

Even one 5c drink would cover the cost of burning a 60-watt bulb in that empty socket for 24 hours.

The cost of chewing gum will pay the difference between using a 40-watt and a 75-watt bulb for 40 hours.

These beautiful I. E. S. Floor and Table Lamps give your eyes the right kind of light. Each has a translucent inverted bowl that insures soft, glareless light, and a wide shade with a white lining. They give 3 to 5 times more light than ordinary lamps — and over a larger working area, too! Look for the I. E. S. Tag—prices begin at $3.95 on easy terms.

Detroit Mayor Threatens Suit

Newly-elected Detroit Mayor May Sue His Defeated Opponent For Slander

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Nov. 4.—Mayor-elect Richard W. Reading of Detroit, who was swept into office in Tuesday's election by an avalanche of anti-C. I. O. votes, today threatened to sue the defeated C. I. O. candidate, Patrick H. O'Brien, for slander.

Reading, given a 107,000 plurality in a total vote of 413,000, said he would sue O'Brien in the courts unless O'Brien retracted charges he made in the pre-election campaign. Reading, saying he already had consulted his attorneys, added:

"O'Brien accused me of being a member of the Ku Klux Klan. He also said through my public office I learned of land about to be condemned and that I bought this land and sold it to government agencies at a huge profit. These charges are false and I want them admitted to be false once and for all."

Judge Patterson Contest Close

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—Judge Frank P. Patterson, Republican, held third place in the contest for seats on the common pleas court bench today but by so narrow a margin it was believed that only the election board's certification would settle the issue finally. The Democrats swept the other places.

Only one district was missing in the unofficial tabulation which gave Patterson a lead of 263 votes over his nearest Democratic opponent, A. Marshall Thompson. Other places went to Congressman Henry Ellenbogen, and City Solicitor John J. Kennedy with Patterson in their place, Thompson fourth and Judge G. Malcolm McDonald trailing fifth.

Earle Seeking Federal Post For Kalodner

Governor Goes To Washington, Nature Of Visit Is Matter Of Conjecture

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 4. — Gov. George H. Earle flew to Washington today, significantly close on the heels of reports that he would sponsor Harry E. Kalodner, defeated in Tuesday's municipal elections, for appointment to the federal bench.

The chief executive was accompanied by Public Assistance Secretary Karl De Schweinitz, but it was understood their missions in the national capital were unrelated.

The governor's office could not say what occasioned Earle's trip to Washington. De Schweinitz's office believed the public assistance head was enroute to keep a previous appointment with the social security board and that the two trips happened to coincide.

Previously, it had been indicated Governor Earle would name Kalodner either to the post of state banking secretary, to be vacated by the election of Dr. Luther A. Harr to the Philadelphia city treasurership or to a Philadelphia judgeship. Kalodner was defeated in the race for judge of the common pleas court No. 2.

Kalodner, it was said, is not 'anxious" for another municipal court appointment. He alone was defeated of the Philadelphia Democratic candidates after Governor Earle's campaign blast of last week referring to the war wounds of Judge Theodore Rosen, Kalodner's successor, brought up a wave of Republican opposition.

Kalodner was named to the Philadelphia judgeship while secretary of revenue in the Earle cabinet. Previously he had served as the governor's secretary and has been one of his closest advisors since the beginning of the Earle administration.

Gifted Russian Duo In Joint Recital Here

LUBOSHUTZ AND NEMENOFF

It has been a number of years since a piano team entertained New Castle music lovers. The last one was Guy Meier and Lee Pattison, who played here when La Verne Irvine had charge of music in the senior high school.

Another famous piano team, Pierre Luboshutz and Genia Nemenoff will present the second concert of the Civic Music Association here on November 15 it was announced today. Both brilliant artists they have built a name for themselves as duo-pianists and their concert here should be in keeping with the quality of the first one, when Ezio Pinza sang.

Both of them are Russian and in private life are Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Luboshutz. Back of each of them is a history of musical accomplishment in other countries and in the United States.

Luboshutz came to the United States eleven years ago, Nemenoff six. Since before their marriage they have appeared in joint recital and their appearance here is another star in the Civic Music constellation.

Supreme Court Must Rule Again On Justice Black

Expect Eligibility Ruling To Be Made At Session On Monday

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The supreme court today was scheduled to rule for the second time Monday on the eligibility of Justice Hugo L. Black to his seat.

The new attack, made by counsel for Frank J. Ryan, of Tampa. The Ryan Florida Corporation and the Florida Tax Oil Company, in a petition for a rehearing, also questioned Justice Black's participation in its case.

The petition asked a review of lower court decisions that held the securities and exchange commission could issue blanket subpoena for private telegrams. Counsel for the southern group charged Justice Black could not have an open mind in the case because he himself, when head of a senate investigating committee, ordered and defended the wholesale seizure of private telegrams. They asked that he be disqualified.

Justice Black's right to his seat was attacked on the ground that the retirement of Justice Vandevanter did not create a vacancy and that Justice Black was a member of the senate which passed the retirement act and thus increased emoluments of the office.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Peter R. Weimer, of Connellsville, governor-elect of the Pennsylvania Kiwanis district and all other officers, including governors-elect from over the United States and Canada, convened here today for the annual council meeting and training school of Kiwanis International.

Mr. Weimer will take office on January 1.

In Pennsylvania there are 113 clubs, with a membership of approximately 6,000. Mr. Weimer, who was elected this fall at Easton, told the gathering.

F. Trafford Taylor, of St. Boniface, Manitoba, International president, will preside at all sessions of the council, which brings together eighty officials from all over the North American continent.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Purported Memo Stirs Up Capital

Annexation Of Manchuria First Step In Conquest Of United States Is Claim

DATA TURNED OVER TO THIS COUNTRY

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART,
Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—On July 25, 1927, the then Japanese Premier Tanaka submitted to the Mikado a memorandum looking toward the Japanese "annexation of Manchuria as the first step toward the conquest of China, the United States and the rest of the world."

Somehow Chinese Ambassador Wang, now in Washington, succeeded in digging up a copy of this memorandum. And he has seen to it that the state department has been informed of it.

It really is a remarkable document. Ambassador Wong offers no comment in connection with it. It speaks for itself, in his opinion.

* * *

THE PURPORTED DOCUMENT

Boiled down, Premier Tanaka argued that:

"In the future, if we (the Japanese) want to control China, we must first crush the United States, just as, in the past, we had to fight in the Russo-Japanese war.

"But, in order to conquer China, we must first conquer Manchuria and Mongolia.

"In order to conquer the world, we must first conquer China."

* * *

"WARS INEVITABLE"

Quite an ambitious program!

We do not know that the Mikado indorsed it. Premier Tanaka, however, was a fairly authoritative spokesman.

"For settling difficulties in eastern Asia," he said, "Japan must adopt a policy of 'blood and iron'." Then, somewhat repeating himself, "In order to conquer the world, Japan must conquer Europe and Asia; in order to conquer Europe and Asia, Japan must conquer China, and in order to conquer China, Japan must first conquer Manchuria and Mongolia. Japan expects to fulfill the above program in 10 years." Also, "Japan believes wars in the near future with the United States and with Russia are inevitable."

AS TANAKA PICTURED IT

Premier Tanaka deplored the "Nine-Power Treaty", which he termed "a (Japanese) policy of national suicide.

"England," he continued, "can afford to talk about trade relations only because she has India and Australia to supply her with foodstuffs and other materials. So can America, because South America and Canada are there to supply her needs. Their spare energy could be entirely devoted to developing trade in China to enrich themselves. But Japan's food supply and raw materials decrease in proportion to her population. * * * A more dangerous factor is the fact that the people of China might some day wake up."

On the opposite hand, pointed out Premier Tanaka, if the Japanese succeed in placing "China's entire resources at our disposal, we shall proceed to conquer India, the Archipelago, Asia Minor, central Asia and even Europe."

* * *

FEAR OF CHINA

The premier frankly expressed his fears of Chinese progress.

"Our best policy," he reasoned, "lies in the direction of taking positive steps to secure rights and privileges in Manchuria and Mongolia. These will enable us to develop our trade. This will not only forestall China's own industrial development, but also prevent the penetration of European powers (meaning America likewise).

"This is the best policy possible."

* * *

CHINESE TOO SHREWD

The premier's memorandum delved into considerable history, geography and railroad builders' strategy.

This part of his argument cannot be discussed in detail—too long, complicated, technical and difficult for an outsider to understand without a deal of study.

Some of it is funny, nevertheless.

Premier Tanaka freely recognizes that the Chinese are better business men than the Japanese. He wants the Chinese handicapped to offset their financial talent.

"Although," said his memorandum, "they (the Chinese) have no scientific knowledge of exchange values * * * they always gain in transactions. They have a natural gift for it. We suffer." Accordingly the premier advocates the employment of "Japanese advisers (in China) to help us gain supremacy in financial matters."

* * *

"BELGIUM OF FAR EAST"

The Tanaka memorandum concluded:

"Manchuria and Mongolia are the Belgium of the Far East.

"In the Great War, Belgium was the battlefield.

"In our wars with Russia and the United States, we must make Manchuria and Mongolia suffer the ravages."

Scotland Yard Asks Increase In Policewomen

(International News Service)

LONDON—Scotland Yard wants fifty more police-women to bring the standing force to 150. It has a great admiration for their policely qualities and the work they do.

Sense of humor ((essential); patience, kindness, firmness, power to think and act swiftly, physical strength, an observant eye—and that reputed feminine characteristic, curiosity.

The world-be woman cop must be between 24 and 35, more than 5 ft. 4 in. in height.

If selected, she will get pay ranging from eleven to fifteen dollars a week while a patrolwoman and a maximum of twenty-seven dollars a week if she rises to an inspector's job. She will get a small rent allowance, and free uniform. If she stays in the force 25 years she can retire on half-pay pension, and two-thirds after 30 years service.

SEATTLE, Wash.—The severest critic of Nathan Abas, noted Seattle violinist, is Elu, his Scotch terrier dog, who was reared on a diet of milk and music. Mayor McGrath Speaks On Crime

Gives Interesting Talk At Meeting Of Kiwanis Club Tuesday Noon

Mayor Charles E. McGrath gave an interesting talk on crime before members of the Kiwanis club at their weekly luncheon Tuesday at noon in The Castleton.

Mayor McGrath was pinchhitting for the program committee who had promised an Armistice Day speaker, but in the hubbub and excitement of the election, temporarily forgot their assignment.

This did not detract one whit in the interest of the Mayor's talk, who spoke of the grave situation which confronts this country in the prevention of crime. He pointed out that the average age of the criminals of this country has dropped from 34 to 19 years in the last decade or so; and that the G-Men have to be brought in from the field every eighteen months and given additional training to keep abreast with the country's criminals.

Muscular Rheumatic Pains

It takes more than "just a salve" to draw them out. It takes a "counter-irritant" like good old Musterole—soothing, warming, penetrating and helpful in drawing out the local congestion and pain when rubbed on the aching spots.

Muscular lumbago, soreness and stiffness generally yield promptly.

Better than the old-fashioned mustard plaster, Musterole has been used by millions for 30 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. All druggists'. In three strengths: Regular Strength, Children's (mild), and Extra Strong.

Mother, Mix Your Own Cough Remedy. It's Better

Double-quick Relief. Saves Money. Easily Mixed.

No matter what you might spend for medicine, you couldn't get quicker, better relief from coughs that start from colds than this simple home mixture gives. It takes but a moment to prepare—it's so easy a child could do it. And it saves real money.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments until dissolved. No cooking is needed.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make a full pint of really better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for four times the money. It never spoils, lasts a family a long time and children love its taste.

And for quick, blessed relief, you'll say it beats anything you ever tried. It has a remarkable three-fold action. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the inflamed membranes, and helps clear the air passages.

Pinex is a concentrated compound of Norway Pine, famous for its prompt action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

NOW QUICK RELIEF FOR PILES

ZIRIL suppositories were first developed for the use of doctors who specialize in rectal disorders. They have a five-way action that has led some physicians to call them the ideal treatment for the quick relief of the horrible discomfort of hemorrhoids. They relieve pain within a few seconds; they check minor bleeding quickly; they promote healing of broken tissues and fissures; they soften and lubricate, making bowel movement easy and less painful. ZIRIL suppositories contain no narcotics or harmful drugs; convenient for home use.

ZIRIL is also made in the form of an ointment for quick relief of itching, burning and soreness accompanying external or protruding piles.

ZIRIL Suppositories comes in two sizes—50 cents and $1.00 per box; ZIRIL Ointment costs only 50¢ for a generous size tube.

You may now purchase this newest prescription at all drug stores.

Claims Safety Proposals Not Carried Out; Blames Plane Crash On Situation

(International News Service)

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 4.—Blame for the northeastern Utah United Airlines crash with its loss of 19 lives today was charged to the U. S. Department of Commerce.

W. D. Hammond, chairman of the Utah Aeronautics Commission, created a sensation before the federal board of inquiry, when he revealed that the commerce department had failed to act on safety recommendations made by the state of Utah.

Hammond said that the state board had previously recommended to the commerce department that it increase flight altitudes between Salt Lake City and Cheyenne, Wyo. He said the board had likewise recommended that shielded loop antenna, designed to prevent static, be installed on all passenger planes.

The failure of the plane's radio to function during the storm has been cited as one of the likely reasons for the crash.

"If the department had followed the recommendations of the board when they were made in September, the 19 passengers killed in the air crash would be alive today," Hammond said.

Aviation experts, testifying before the hearing, have been nearly unanimous in agreeing that two causes were the chief factors in the tragic crash:

1. That the 10,000 foot altitude Pilot E. D. Woodgerd maintained during the fatal flight, while enough to clear all obstacles on the regular course, was not high enough to clear obtacles when blown off the course. The plane was some 20 miles off its course when it crashed.

2. That the plane's radio equipment had been rendered useless by the storm raging at the time of the crash and the pilot was therefore unable to get any ground assistance. .

Since the crash, United Airlines has increased its flying height requirements.

The inquiry was scheduled to end today following additional testimony on weather conditions.

Holdup Youths Get Burned With Carbolic Acid

Quick Thinking Druggist Hurls Acid In Face Of Holdup Pair

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Police today scoured hospital and clinics for two youths with badly burned faces—souvenirs of a holdup visit to a resourceful Bronx druggist.

Proprietor Bernard Basson was behind the counter when the two youths entered his shop, ostensibly to buy sodas. He quickly smelled trouble. Hurrying back to his prescription room, he filled a pint bottle with carbolic acid.

The robbers took $2.08 from the register and ordered Basson to take off his pants. The proprietor bent over, grabbed up the acid and let the pair have it square in the face. After they had fled, screaming, to the street, Basson calmly put on his pants and phoned police.

Famed Actor In Frisco's Chinatown Mysteriously Shot

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 4.—Mah Kin Nung, famed actor in San Francisco's Chinatown, lingered near death today, victim of a mysterious gunman's bullet.

Mah was shot last night as he made his way along a dark alley in Chinatown in back of the Shoong playground.

Hundreds of Chinese in the surrounding congested tenements were attracted by the sound of the shot and immediately summoned aid for the beloved actor.

However, upon questioning by police, the Chinese retained their usual native ability to know nothing about the crime.

Mah stated he had received a threat ten days ago that he was to be murdered. He himself, true to Oriental tradition, refused to state the name of his assailant—if he did know.

A .32 calibre revolver was found 300 yards from the scene. One chamber of the gun had been discharged. Police immediately checked for finger prints.

RENOWNED NEW CASTLE BLACKSMITH RETIRES

Venerable Proprietor, At Age Of 70, Declares Blacksmithing Is Ideal Work for Prolonging Health. Recently Has Been Troubled With Aches In Legs And Poor Sleep. Took Vendol And Gives It High Praise.

There was many a pang of regret among the residents of Lawrence County, especially the old-timers, when the beloved smithy standing on Apple Alley for eighty years was finally removed to make way for a modern parking lot. This historic landmark once served as the principal source of New Castle news, and here was launched many an argument on politics, business, sports and other subjects of the day.

But though the world has changed and the horse age has made way for a new era, Mr. Marquis seemed just as healthy and strong, until recently, as he did 47 years ago when he took over the Apple Alley shop. When asked to account for the amazing way he has preserved himself, he answered:

"Little else than good living habits plus the vigorous exercise that blacksmithing naturally gives. I believe most people who complain of 'not feeling well' are usually just constipated. A little while ago when I became less active and my bowels got sluggish, I found that my sleep was not sound and restful and I had some aches and pains in my legs.

"Buying medicine was a new experience to me, so as I heard such high praise of Vendol by well known and reliable people here in town, I decided to try some. I found it gave splendid relief from my constipation and now I sleep as well as ever and never have an ache or pain. I can now add my praise for this excellent medicine and advise everyone needing such a remedy to take Vendol."

Scientific World In Man's Domain

Woman Admits That Her Sex Hasn't Made Much Progress In That Line

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—Women, who have invaded practically every field open to men, today still find the world of science a man's world.

And, while opportunities for women are open in that field to a certain extent, they must recognize it is a man's field and adjust themselves to it.

Furthermore, in the opinion of Dr. Mary Warga, lecturer in physics at the University of Pittsburgh and a research scientist at the Mellon Institute, that smart stylish outfit, smart coiffure, and pleasing personality that are of such aid to women in other fields, just don't go in the field of science.

Good-Looking Woman Taboo

"Men just don't want to believe that a good-looking woman, in high-heeled shoes, wearing a smart, stylish dress and a smart coiffure 'knows her stuff,'" said Dr. Warga.

The average man, said Dr. Warga, be he a research chemist or vice-president of a manufacturing company, thinks a woman scientist should wear flat heels, shell-rim glasses, and have straight hair, cut short.

And they don't, as a rule, think a woman scientist is a good investment.

"She may do good work for several years," explained Dr. Waga, "and then some day she announces she is going to use her knowledge of science in managing a household rather than directing a chemical laboratory. The employer must scurry about and find another person to take her place."

Marriage A Drawback

Marriage—definitely—said Dr. Warga, interferes with a woman's career in science.

However, there is some opportunity in scientific fields for a woman so inclined, explained Dr. Warga. "A woman, for example, who knows the chemistry of textiles and has good taste in clothes is probably a rare combination and should be valuable to industry or business."

Of 16 girl students who studied science with her Dr. Warga said seven are still in science.

"But it is worth nothing," she said, "that they are in fields in which women are better equipped than men for some kinds of work, particularly those involving, painstaking, detailed laboratory investigation. The biological sciences are an example."

Openings In Other Fields

There are also openings for women who are willing to apply their knowledge of science to advertising, merchandising, and consumer research. There are also fields of medicine to which women are particularly well fitted. And there are also many jobs in teaching and in library or secretarial work in scientific or industrial institutions.

"But the girl who plans to study physics, chemistry, astronomy, or the biological sciences should remember that scientific research is still a man's world," cautioned Dr. Warga. "She must be willing to accept conditions as she finds them and work hard if she is to achieve her objective."

Some Amusing Incidents Occur During Voting

GROVE CITY, Nov. 4.—Election day produced amusing incidents here and in Wolf Creek township, north of this city.

The first man to vote in a Grove City precinct was J. P. Hassler, a staunch Republican. When his vote had been registered, he discovered to his chagrin that through an error in the set-up of the machine he had voted in the "Royal Oak" column, where there were no candidates. Before the next voter appeared, the machine was changed.

In Wolf Creek township, J. C. (Cal) Wilson was written in by both major parties on the primary ballot for tax collector. The former Republican county commissioner was designated as "Cal" Wilson by the Democrats, and as "J. C." Wilson by the Republicans. Upon inquiring as to the results he was informed that Republican "J. C." had "licked the tar' out of Democratic "Cal."

Gus Hall Trial On December 13

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 4.—Gus Hall, one of the 11 persons indicted in Trumbull county for alleged possession and use of explosives in connection with the steel strike last summer, will be placed on trial at Warren on December 13 instead of November 8, as previously scheduled, it was announced today.

The postponement was requested by T. C. Townsend, counsel for Hall, because of pressing business.

The prosecution charges that Hall was the ringleaders in dynamiting activities in the Warren and Niles sector during the strike against "little steel." Four men have been sentenced to the Ohio State penitentiary at Columbus, four have been paroled and three others await trial on similar charges.

Canada Bars Muni Picture

(International News Service)

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 4.—Acclaimed by critics a notable film, "The Life of Emile Zola," starring Paul Muni, has been banned by the Quebec board of film censors, it was learned here today.

Admitting the film had been banned, Eugene Beaulac, chairman of the board, refused to give any reason.

NOT QUITE DYNAMITE

(International News Service)

EAST LIVERPOOL, O.—Excited voices called police here to report that sticks of dynamite had been thrown at their automobiles as they passed the junction of Route 30 and 7 near here. Deputy sheriffs Otto Stacey and Mike Duty, who hurried to the scene, found corn cobs scattered over the road, but no dynamite. They blamed boys for the prank.

STRIP-TEASE NOW OFFICIALLY DEAD

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.— The strip tease was officially declared dead here when Izzy Hirst, head of the Independent Burlesque Association, granted a closed shop to the American Federation of Actors for his 27 theaters.

So the "hootchie-cootch," the "can-can," double entendre dialogue, and even the name "burlesque" will be discarded.

From now on front-row neck-stretchers will see "good, clean vaudeville, backed up with girls modestly clad," according to Ralph Whitehead, president of the A. F. A.

Operating theaters in 12 states, the District of Columbia and Canada, the Hirst chain comprised all the major houses outside New York City.

Rev. Hagadorn Is Removed To Hospital Today

Minister Collapses At Methodist Church Wednesday—In Serious Condition

Rev. Charles H. Hagadorn, youthful minister of the Mahoning Methodist church, was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital this morning for treatment because of his serious condition.

Rev. Hagadorn collapsed while entering the church on Wednesday morning about 11:30 o'clock, and he has been in an unconscious state since.

Rev. Hagadorn was aiding members of his congregation who were making apple butter in the rear of the church building. He turned to enter the church and as he reached the steps he collapsed.

His physicians stated that Rev. Hagadorn is in a serious condition, but his being unconscious handicaps them in trying to determine the cause for the sudden illness.

Common Screech Owl Is Nabbed In 'Burglar' Hunt

(International News Service)

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 4. — "There are burglars in the basement at —," Police Radio Dispatcher John Lynch broadcasts. Four police scout cars picked up the message and sped to the address.

With drawn guns and flashlights, Patrolmen Thomas Whalen and William Whitelook entered the basement to investigate. They heard a screech and focussed their flashlights on the spot where the sound came from — and found a common screech owl.

Miss Gladys Leitch, who resides at the address explained that she telephoned the police when she heard a screech and thought burglars were trying to invade her home. She placed the owl in a bird cage, saying she would give it to the Zoo "or anyone who would take it." The bird apparently had entered the basement through the chimney.

Miriam Hopkins Is Reported Ill

By HARRISON CARROLL
(International News Service)
(Copyright, 1937)

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 4.—With a motion picture company held up until her return and due to report immediately for rehearsals with the New York Theatre Guild, Miriam Hopkins was confined to her bed yesterday and it was uncertain just when she will be able to return to work.

If physicians will permit, the actress will report to the R. K. O. studio tomorrow and try to complete her role in the films, "Women Have A Way."

The picture was being rushed to a finish, so the star could leave Friday for Broadway, where she is scheduled to appear shortly in the guild production, "Wine of Choice."

Her illness, though not serious, already has kept her off the set for two days and, even if she returns tomorrow, film work probably will keep her in Hollywood until the middle of next week.

Indebted Detroit Church Embarks On Adventure Of Faith

Congregation Led By Former Local Boy Praying For Pennies From Heaven

Rev. Carl A. Miller, who attended the New Castle Senior high school, and in 1918 and 1919, Thiel college at Greenville, son of Rev. W. C. Miller, S. T. M., a former pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church in New Castle, is leading his congregation of Christ United Lutheran church, Detroit, in "One Glorious Adventure of Faith,' which has attracted considerable press comment in that Michigan city.

The "One Glorious Adventure of Faith" is a spiritual undertaking which the congregation hopes and believes will bring to them the $103,000 needed in 60 days to settle their church mortgage debt.

A month ago the members thought it was hopeless. Today, with their chins up and their faith strong, they have embarked with Rev. Carl Miller on this "glorious adventure." It isn't to be a financial campaign. There will be no solicitation, no canvass.

"Prayer is the key word in our adventure," Pastor Miller explains. "We have asked the people in the trust company to pray for us. I am asking my congregation to pray God to lead us to any one in the whole wide world who will be interested in this adventure."

The Detroit church was founded 30 years ago by Rev. Miller's father.

Now we call them "democratic nations" and the "aggressor nations," but its still one military alliance against another military alliance.

Can New Castle Stop Hammond's Streak?

Twelve Straight For "Wildcats"

New Castle High Will Have To Be At Best On Saturday

Game Starts At 2:30 O'Clock, Hammond Will Send About 300 Fans

HAVING twisted the tail of a snarling Massillon Hi Tiger last week, can the New Castle High "Red Hurricane" football machine do the same thing to a Hammond Wildcat eleven Saturday afternoon?

This question will be settled shortly after 2:30 o'clock at Taggart Field. Fans, it is going to be a ball game all the way. If the weather is right, there should be about 10,000 fans in the stands. This is New Castle's first big intersectional game.

There is plenty of interest in the game here. Since New Castle knocked the Massillon 26 straight record for a loop of lollypops, the fans warmed up somewhat and are now clamoring for the locals to knock the frosting off of the Hammond cake.

At Top Strength

New Castle will be at top strength for the battle. Head Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh said today that barring injuries this week in scrimmage, he would start the same lineup that performed so brilliantly at Massillon last Friday night.

The task of Bridenbaugh is a tough one this week. It is always hard to point a team for two hard games in a row. Against Massillon High the boys were right at the top of condition and spirit. If they can maintain the spirit this week, Hammond will be in for an afternoon of footballing, the likes of which they probably have never seen before

Different Systems

It will be a miniature Pitt-Notre Dame battle here Saturday as far as the systems are concerned. Hammond employs the Notre Dame system. New Castle uses the Warner system. It should be a wide razzle-dazzle exhibition of hog-hide manipulating. There will be a flock of passes thrown. This is a certainty where ever you see the Notre Dame style of play used.

New Castle may heave a few passes also. They have looked better every game on forwards. Both teams will feature a wide open running attack. There will be lots of deception.

Faculty Manager Gardner announced that owing to the expense of the Hammond game, that the reserved seats would be $1.00. The general admission is 50 cents.

Arrive Friday

The Hammond players and coaches will arrive here on Friday evening and will stop at the Leslie Hotel. A practice by the Hammond team will be held Friday night under the lights.

It is going to be a humdinger of a football game and you had better plan to be in on the party Saturday afternoon. Lets show Hammond how New Castle supports high school football here in Western Pennsylvania. The Hammond boys will be strangers here, so lets try and show them a good time and treat them courteously.

Pitt Panthers Leave Tonight For South Bend

Squad Of 34 Go To South Bend To Meet Notre Dame Team Saturday

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—With 34 players on deck, Pitt's undefeated but tied Panthers will leave tonight for South Bend, Ind., where Saturday they meet Notre Dame in the concluding game of their annual series with the Irish.

Reports from the land of the Irish indicate a capacity crowd of 56,000 will be on hand for the gridiron natural, setting an all-time high for attendance. Notre Dame's surprise triumph over Minnesota last week and Pitt's undefeated record combined to make the game one of the outstanding scraps on the day's card.

Last year, the golden cats whipped the Ramblers 26 to 0.

Hammond Chief Executive Coming Here For Game

Mayor Frank R. Martin of Hammond, Indiana, City Commissioner John Krause, Judge Joe Stodola, Joe Baldali, and Muzzy Gohman are a few of the important personages of Hammond who will board the special car for the game here at New Castle Saturday.

The Hammond officials will be met by Mayor Charles McGrath and city officials and extend a real welcome to the Tin center of America.

Edinboro Next Foe For Titans

Game Will Be Played At New Wilmington On Saturday Afternoon

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 4.—Badly bruised after their deadlock with the Thiel Tomcats, Coach Washabaugh's Westminster Titans went through long pass-defense drills early this week in preparation for their game with the Edinboro Teachers at New Wilmington Saturday.

The two Thiel touchdowns and the one scored by Geneva were all from long passes over the heads of the Titan defense backs, and Washabaugh is out to break up the play that cost him tie games with Geneva and Thiel in the final seconds of each of the games. Washabaugh stressed line and backfield blocking also, as he ended the session with a light scrimmage drill. Valicenti and Laposki ripped through the reserve line for long gains on straight bucks, reserves and spinners.

Facing a team with an offense and defense comparable to their own, the Blue and White will take the field against the Red Raiders with either Pfau, Ohio end, or Barr, Aliquippa freshman, at the left end; Miller, New Brighton sophomore, at right end; Susko and Mamula at the tackles; Reufle and Youkers at guards; and Throop or Bretthollе at center. Harry DePaulis, injured Aliquippa tackle, will probably see action against Edinboro if his leg injury improves, while Stan Lutton, husky New York guard, may get into the lineup at a guard post due to his splendid defensive playing against Geneva.

Washabaugh's pony backfield will probably include Maffei, Tarentum, at left half; Laposki, New Brighton, blocking half; Valicenti, Mt. Lebanon, quarter; and black or Wright at fullback.

Marksmen With Long Names High Guns At Shoot In Cathedral

Hockenberry And Waddington Show Style; Alliance Coming Friday

Doc Hockenberry and Bob Waddington shot their way to the top of the list with excellent 193 strings, Monday night, at the New Castle Rifle club's practice shoot on the Cathedral range.

Ruby Moore was second with 190 and Patterson with 185 claimed third place.

New Castle opposes Alliance Friday night at the Cathedral in a scheduled league shoot. Alliance is a newcomer to the O. & P. League but is a very powerful rifle team just the same and is considered a dangerous opponent. The locals are calling all guns for Friday night because everything they have will be needed in this match.

Results of Monday's shoot:

Hockenberry 193; Waddington 193; Ruby Moore 190; Patterson 185; Zeigler 184; VanHorn 182; Ferver 180; Cooper 177; Lusk 174.

RAMBLERS TO MEET

The following members of the New Castle Ramblers football team are asked to meet at the home of Charles Murray on North street tonight at 8 o'clock for discussion of the game on Saturday: Bevan, Rogan, Murray, Fee, Hagen, Marino, Don Kearns, Mauney, French and Dorsey. The team averages about 17 years of age. The manager of the team is Sam Delia.

W. & J. Will Play Marietta Eleven

Bobby Muse Of New Castle Sure To See Lots Of Action In Game Saturday

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 4.—Still plagued by an epidemic of telling injuries, and smarting under a 14-12 lacing handed them by Allegheny last Saturday, the Washington and Jefferson Presidents will move to Marietta Saturday to take on the Marietta Pioneers.

In facing the southern Ohio team, the Presidents, coached by George Roark, will be after their second win in six games. To date the Red and Black gridders have lost to Muskingum, Butler and Allegheny, have beaten Bethany and tied Dickinson.

Mel Meals, sensational Sophomore, was added to the injured list in Saturday's game with the Gators when he sustained a painful leg hurt. The Presidents have been riddled all season by injuries that have kept more than half the regulars out of action at one time or another.

A new star, in the person of Bob Muse, New Castle Junior, was uncovered in last week's game. Muse set the stage for the Prexies' final touchdown by tossing a 45 yard pass and then, on the next play, dashing to the Alligator five yard line. It is probable that Muse will see quite a bit of action again the Pioneers.

Hockey Season Starts Tonight

(International News Service)

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 4.—The world champion Detroit Red Wings hockey team invaded Toronto today to open the 1937-1938 ice season in a game with the Maple Leafs.

A capacity crowd of nearly 13,000 was expected to witness the clash.

The Red Wings, Stanley cup champions for the last two years, will be out this season to try to make it three in a row, something no other team in modern hockey has ever done.

KEY MEN'S CLUB ELECTS CAMPBELL

Physical Department Group At Y. M. C. A. Now In Its Fourth Year

Lee W. "Newt" Campbell, city fireman, is the new president of the Key Men's club of the Young Men's Christian Association. The members, all key leaders in the physical department affairs of the "Y", elected him at the annual meeting this week.

They named Delbert Jackson, vice president, and Stanley Witherspoon secretary-treasurer.

Now In Fourth Year

Now in its fourth year the group in the past has given important service to the local "Y" and today is one of the association's better known clubs. The club members, as individuals and as a club, have contributed service.

Members voted in in the past have been Del Jackson, Al Jones, Harold Dickson, Wesley Mann, Richard Louer, Stan Witherspoon, George Swisher. On Tuesday William Duncho, Albert Bodendorfer, Fred Freese and George Knippel were elected to membership. Original members were Dario Baptiste, Paul Gilbert, Newt Campbell, Bill Winter, Nick George, Charles Jones, Henry MacNicholas and R. L. Meermans.

Past presidents have been Dario Baptiste, now in California, and Paul Gilbert, who has just closed his second term.

The club meets next November 16, for a social program in the home of one of the members.

The best wolf is the best fighter, killer and robber. And without a Supreme Being to please, man has no moral law but the wolf's.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Charles Seaback of Boston scored a surprise win over Marcel Camp of Detroit in the world's pocket billiard round-robin championship tourney under way at Philadelphia. Seaback won 125 to 93 in 30 innings after Irving Crane, of Livonia, N. Y., had defeated Joe Diehl, of Rockford, Ill. 125 to 84 in 16 innings.

Bob Feller, pitcher, celebrated his nineteenth birthday at Van Meter, Ia., yesterday. There was no party for the Cleveland hurler. Instead he gave the hired man on their farm a lift, went horseback riding and hunting. He doesn't expect a recurrence of arm trouble he suffered last season, according to reports.

Al Delaney won from Norman Baines in a 10 round heavyweight bout last night at London. Baines weighed 224 and Delaney 184. The former is a Canadian and the latter an Englishman.

Church League Meets Tonight

The managers of the various churches will meet tonight at the Y. M. C. A. at 7:30 o'clock for a discussion of the proposed church basketball league.

All churches that intend to enter the league must have their managers present at the meting. A pre-season league will be conducted, it was announced by Henry MacNicholas, physical director of the "Y" and league director.

Shenango Primed For Union Eleven

Class B Foes Will Play On Union Field; Game Starts At 2:45 O'Clock

Two inspired football teams will battle Friday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock on the Union high gridiron.

The elevens—Shenango and Union township high—are expected to stage one of the most exciting tussels of the season. Shenango closes the campaign tomorrow and naturally would call it a perfect day by breezing through with a convincing victory. Union high is primed for the East New Castle foes. Not that it matters, but the team winning will climb into second place in the Lawrence County Class B title race which went to Bessemer.

From here it looks like too evenly matched clubs and a honey of a battle. One of the bigrest crowds of the season is predicted to be on hand when the Scotland Laners lineup against the Wildcats.

The probable lineup:

Union—		Shenango—
Morrison	L.E.	Tratz
Fulton	L.T.	Druschel
Neal	L.G.	Collingwood
Bentley	C.	McIltrot
Sniezek	R.G.	Tanner
Chiafullo	R.T.	Currie
King	R.E.	Pitzer
Annerella	Q.B.	Thomas
Smith	L.H.	Pallerino
Guinaugh	R.H.	Latham
Jaskolka	F.B.	Mooney

Maybe the Japs are right and it isn't a war. Neither side base written any naughty songs about it.

War Admiral Is Being Retired Till Next Year

War Admiral Takes Race At Pimlica To Increase Earnings To $166,500

(International News Service)

BALTIMORE, Nov. 4.—War Admiral, king of the three-year-olds, was retired for the season today with total winnings for the year of $166,500, the largest credited to any American thoroughbred in 1937. His earnings for his entire career are $181,300.

In capturing the $7,500 added Pimlico special yesterday at odds of 1 to 20 for his eghth triumph of the year in as many starts the gallant son of Man O' War, for the first time this season, had to come from behind to win. And although he triumphed by a decisive margin, he was lucky when the leader, Masked General, ran out at the stretch turn.

Charley Kurtsinger, who rode the Admiral as usual, said he had to hit the colt with a whip yesterday for the first time.

War Admiral's retirement for the season eliminates his proposed race with Seabiscuit for the year's all-age championship.

California Is Leading Team On West Coast

Will Play In Rose Bowl Game At Pasadena, Who Will Represent East?

PITT-FORDHAM OUT OF RUNNING

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—With Pitt, Fordham, Alabama, Dartmouth and, possibly, Yale currently leading in the race for invitations to the various bowl games, the promoters are showing no regrets for the first time in years over the fact that the Big Ten has a rule against its members playing post-season football.

The reason is obvious as you scan performances to date—the powerful mid-western conference has less to offer this year in the way of outstanding records than any other sectional group in the football business. Out there where the corn grows tall, the mighty have fallen. In fact, in some cases they have been pushed around and then belted over.

Narrowing the thing down, the team with the most to recommend it is California, which undoubtedly will represent the west, or host section, in the annual New Year's day Rose Bowl game at Pasadena. California has a perfect record against the customarily tough coast opposition.

Yale May Accept

Pitt and Fordham have tied each other and Dartmouth and Yale have dealt each other a similar setback, insofar as the east is concerned. Alabama has a clean slate with only one touchdown against it, but has taken on only foes in its own Dixie sector.

Yale, of course, may follow its usual procedure and arch a superior brow at the suggestion of its playing like hirelings in a bowl, if invited, but it might break any and all agreements, on the other hand, and accept, according to the word going the rounds.

The Yales, it will be recalled, sold broadcasting privileges to their own games, lending support to reports that they are softened up now to the extent that they would grab a chunk of that post-season money, if the chance were offered.

It may be that Pitt has less chance of going west than it generally is accorded, inasmuch as it went out last year and possibly has put a slight fray on its welcome.

However, there still are some other bowls to be filled, notably the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, for which tickets were placed on sale Monday of this week although the game, like all the rest of the similar post-season games, won't be played until New Year's Day.

It is barely possible that they will produce an encore in this one, bringing back Santa Clara and Louisiana State which met last time and which are ploughing ahead to good records again. L. S. U. has been whipped once by a point, while Santa Clara has taken all games in stride.

Of the participants in three other post-season contests last year, only Duquesne and Villanova stand a chance of being reinvited. The Dukes beat Mississippi State in Miami's Orange Bowl, and Villanova scored over Auburn in Havana's Bacardi Bowl. Mississippi and Auburn both have faltered this year, and the same goes for Texas Christian and Marquette which also were touched by the epidemic when it reached Texas and brought about the Cotton Bowl.

Church Floor Team Forming

The First Presbyterian church basketball team of the New Castle Church League will hold a first practice at the "Y" on Friday night. The time is 8 o'clock.

The following should report: Bob McGregor, Tommy McCormick, Jack Duffey, Chuck Davies, Perry McCormick, George Forester, Howard Carlisle, Bill Taylor, Bob MacNeill, Bill Campbell and Ralph McCormick.

Eyston Still Seeks Record

Retired English Army Officer Hopes To Better 309 Miles Per Hour

WILL MAKE BIG TEST SATURDAY

(International News Service)

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah. Nov. 4.—Capt. George E. T. Eyston, middle-aged retired army officer from England, prepared today to "shoot the works" Saturday in quest of Sir Malcolm Campbell's measured mile record.

The announcement followed the graying speed driver's record-shattering performance yesterday which netted him three world's land speed marks—the 12-hour, the 3,00-kilometer and the 2,000-mile.

Eyston was jubilant over his long-awaited success in surpassing the 12-hour mark of Ab Jenkins, Utah driver, with an average of 163.68 miles per hour in his maroon "Speed of the Winds".

Big Task Ahead

When his relief driver, Bert Denley, flashed across the finish line at 6.59 p. m. (PST) last night, the car had traveled 2,000 miles in 12 hours and 19 minutes to establish a new record for this distance. He also garnered the 3,000-kilometer mark at 163.48 miles per hour and a few intermediate records.

"It was nothing," Eyston commented today. "The big task lies ahead Saturday when we race the big car. We've waited since mid-September for this chance and now we're going to make the best of it."

Late fall rains, high winds and mechanical failures had dogged Eyston for almost two months.

Last week he hurtled 309.6 miles per hour, faster than any other human has travelled on the earth's surface, only to fail for the official record when his clutch failed and he was unable to make a return trip through the measured mile.

Nonpareil Will Shoot Tonight

The first indoor shoot of the winter season will be held at the Nonpareil rifle range tonight in the west side garage. The starting time is 7:30 o'clock, according to Karl Rohrer.

The members will do doubt be divided into teams just as they were last year and stage inter-club shoots during the coming months.

TALES IN TIDBITS

By BILL BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Some of the Broadway graybeards who remember when Johnny Kilbane was featherweight champion of the world take the new feather champion, Henry Armstrong, very lightly . . . two or three of the typewriter jockeys have broken into print with a throaty sob for the old days when the little fellows were great boxers, ring generals, and all that . . . it seems that all Henry can do is hit . . . and he destroys his opponents with no more finesse than a locomotive shoving around a busload of picknickers at a grade crossing.

Odd folk, the Broadway blasters . . . they dislike Armstrong because he's a killer, and they lionized Dempsey for the same reason . . . now and then they used to put the heat on Tommy Loughran because he was such a splendid boxer (but he couldn't hit) . . . it's very hard to guess what the boys are going to say.

In our book, Henry is one of the greatest little men to come along since Pancho Villa . . . certainly he is purely a destroyer, but they aren't tossed in there to make faces at each other, are they? . . . and now that Armstrong is champion, three of the seven fistic divisions are dominated by Negroes . . . with Joe Louis heavy king and John Henry Lewis light heavyweight ruler.

Digging into his background, Henry was born in St. Louis, Dec. 12, 1912, the youngest of a brood of 13 children . . . when he was five his mother died, and young Henry contributed to the support of the family by selling newspapers . . . he managed to fight his way through high school, and had hopes of studying medicine, but couldn't find the wherewithal to carry on to college.

One of his jobs was with a railroad section gang . . . swinging a sledge . . . then he set up pins in a bowling alley at Maplewood, Mo. . . . he went into training to compete in C. C. Pyle's coast-to-coast bunion derby . . . running 12 miles to and from work every day . . . but his brother Harry changed his mind . . . Harry was an amateur boxer and he figured Henry could do a whole lot better throwing leather than pounding it on the 'ard, 'ard 'ighways.

Mixed bouts were barred in St. Louis, so Henry drove to Pittsburgh in an ancient crate and won amateur medals . . . medals were not accepted as tender for food, however, so the boys went back to St. Louis broke . . . they rode the rods to California, but couldn't find a manager . . . finally Wirt Ross consented to manage the youngster . . . and got him a fight in Mexico City with Baby Arizmendi . . . the promoters disappeared with the spinach.

Stranded in Mexico, Henry had to fight his way back to Los Angeles . . . It was a victory over Arizmendi in Los Angeles that proved his big break. . . . Eddie Mead, old school manager, saw the bout and liked his stuff . . . in the audience, too, were Al Jolson and his wife, Ruby Keeler . . . years before Eddie had helped Ruby to get started in New York . . . she repaid the favor by persuading Jolson to buy Armstrong's contract and turn over the fighter to Mead to manage . . . Jolson paid $10,000 for Henry's contract . . . which Eddie has since repaid.

Little Henry is married and the father of a three-year-old daughter . . . his family lives in Los Angeles where he has purchased a home with ring earnings. . . . After his ring days are ended, Henry hopes to study music.

THANKSGIVING DAY may see the "eastern" Rose Bowl representative selected, when Alabama meets Vanderbilt at Nashville, Tenn. . . . that is, if Tulane doesn't upset the Crimson Tide Nov. 6 in New Orleans. . . . This is the last year of the Pitt-Notre Dame series . . . and both are pointing for that battle, at South Bend, Nov. 6 . . . unless Elmer Layden has found a way to stop that cutback over tackle, Pitt may steam right on to that Rose Bowl again.

Some of the boys are saying that Wysocki of Villanova is the best end in the east . . . kicks that apple between the bars, in addition to playing a whale of a game on offense and defense . . . but Brud Holland, Cornell, Negro, is pretty good, too. . . . One of the convincing testimonials you may have overlooked was carried in the statistics on the Pitt-Wisconsin game . . . Pitt gained 352 yards by rushing, against Wisconsin's 13 . . . . but another testimonial in which you may be interested was the fact that Carnegie Tech gained just seven yards by rushing against Notre Dame.

* * *

Bill Edwards, who has coached the Western Reserve team to 28 straight victories, is 32 years old, and the son of a Massillon, O., coal miner . . . Bill was all-Ohio center at Wittenberg. . . . The young man named Gibson playing center for Dartmouth, is a son of Billy Gibson, universally liked manager of Gene Tunney, Benny Leonard and other great fighters of yesterday.

One of our favorite stories about Casey Stengel is of his return to Ebbets Field years ago after he had been traded to the Giants and traded back to Brooklyn. . . . He still wore a Giants uniform when he stepped to the plate for his first time at bat . . . and the applause rocked Flatbush . . . acknowledging the salvo, Casey turned to the stands and lifted his cap . . . and out flew a sparrow.

The question is asked in many press boxes: "Will Tony Lazzeri succeed Charlie Grimm as manager of the Cubs?" . . . I think the answer to that one will be given by the final standings of the clubs next fall . . . . if the Cubs don't win, Tony will take over the team. . . . Among 88 applicants for one vacancy on the police force at Evanston, Ill., nine were Northwestern university athletes, and at the top of the list was Don Heap, captain of the Wildcats.

* * *

Ambrose Schindler, Southern California's great back, is a son of a British naval officer. . . . When young Bob Zuppke gave his name in to the umpire in the recent Illinois-Indiana game, the official said, "Aw, you're kidding." . . . Cy Slapnicka, front office boss of the Cleveland Indians, is a former vaudeville juggler.

Industrial Notes: United States Steel declared a dividend of $1 the other day . . . and the St. Louis Cardinals declared one for eight bucks . . . . Champion Petey Sarron was guaranteed 15 grand for meeting Henry Armstrong the other night, and Henry's guarantee was $7,500. . . . John Montague is to give a series of golf exhibitions.

Schmeling To Meet Thomas

Max Schmeling Sails From Germany For Fight With Rookie On December 13

PLANS TO MEET JOE LOUIS AGAIN

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Max Schmeling, who wants to practice a few fungoes before stepping up there to face Joe Louis' pitching next June for the world's heavyweight championship, is sailing from Germany tomorrow on the Bremen, Joe Jacobs, his American step-manager announced this morning, adding that the fighter would arrive November 11. In other words, Armistice Day, which reminds me that his first fungo will be Harry Thomas of Chicago.

Incidentally, it seems unlikely now that this fight, scheduled for December 13, will be transferred to Chicago, as had been suggested, in an effort to defeat a probable anti-Nazi boycott of Schmeling here.

Slated For Garden

"We might as well find out whether this boycott is a phony or on the level," said our man Jake, speaking in his native tongue. "Anyhow, the Thomas fight is signed for Madison Square Garden and that's probably where it'll be held."

Thomas was to have been the first of two practice opponents for Schmeling on a sort of dummy-scrimmage basis leading up to the Louis brawl, the other being Ben Foord, the Englishman, in Hamburg on January 30. But it appears now that there may be three, with Miami, Florida, perhaps getting a Schmeling pre-view in late February.

Ford Paid For Radio Rights He Didn't Use

Report Ford Paid $100,000 Option Rights On Recent Series Broadcast

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—John Royal, vice president of the National Broadcasting company in charge of programs, said today he was at a loss to understand why Henry Ford declined to exercise his option to broadcast the last world's series after paying $100,000 for the option rights.

"It may be that Mr. Ford felt there was not sufficient national interest with the two New York teams in the series to warrant him spending another $300,000 for the radio facilities and time on the air," Royal said.. "The $100,000 was merely the franchise charge which goes to the ball clubs for the rights to broadcast."

Ford's agents tried to find another sponsor to whom they might resell the radio rights, but could not do so, Royal revealed. Therefore, because of the contract with the baseball people, Ford was obligated to pay the $100,000 for the option rights.

Stock Market Gets Support

Reactionary Tendencies At Opening Of Market—Support Develops

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Reactionary tendencies persisted in the stock market today, although support was met after leaders had added losses running to more than three points to yesterday's drop.

The early decline was led by steels, rails, farm implements, motors, coppers and chemicals, as in the preceding session, while gold shares once again displayed independent strength.

Townships Elect Various Officers

Winners In Perry, Wayne And Franklin Townships Named

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 4.—While the returns of the county election held the spotlight of no lesser importance to the township residents was their elections of township officers including road supervisors, tax collectors, assessors, school directors, auditors and election officers.

In Wayne township the following results were posted: Road supervisor for six years, Merle L. Newton; auditor, 6 years, Mrs. Nellie Boots; J. Clyde Cunningham was unopposed for tax collector, as was Peter J. Tillia for assessor; and justice of the peace, Harry Clarke.

With two school directors to be elected the race was close between the four candidates with Harold Boots and Lawrence Rabberman winning by a narrow margin over Fred Couts and William Davies, present incumbent.

Election officers elected for the second district of Wayne township were: judge, William Walker and Tessie E. Beltz and Margaret McGregor, clerks.

The selection of four new school directors for terms of 2, 4 and 6 years held the principal interests of the Perry township voters. Clair Steffler and Charles St. Clair, both of upper Perry township, were chosen for 6 years, Jesse Young, of Wurtemburg, for four years; and Charles Timblim, of Wurtemburg, for two years. Resignations and removal from the township of various drectors necessitated the election of 4 directors at this time.

Other returns in Perry township were: E. L. Hazen led George Nagle for road supervisor; William Timblim led W. E. Twentier for auditor; and Roy C. Cleland led Max Nye for tax collector; R. H. Kirk was unopposed for assessor and Andy Fox unopposed for justice of the peace.

Election officers chosen for the first district were: Judge, Samuel Blair; inspectors, Walter Hartzell and Neva Koach.

The much publicized case of Dan Stamm and Mrs. Dan Stamm running for the office of tax collector on different tickets in Franklin township resulted in Mrs. Stamm, the Democrat candidate, being elected.

J. E. Nevin and Mrs. Mary Smith were the successful candidates for school directors in the same township and the other offices filled were: Justice of the Peace, William Wright; constable, J. Arthur Milnes; auditor, J. J. Potter; and road supervisor, A. W. Koach.

The western precinct named the following election officers: judge, Ralph Miller and Mrs. Martha Hardie and Mrs. Benton Elliott, inspectors.

Little Bits Of This And That About Ellwood

Returning home on the first day of hunting season, a group of local hunters suddenly came upon five deer standing on the Ellwood-Zelienople road. Unavoidably their car struck and killed one of the does, and by order of the game commissioner the venison was taken to the Ellwood hospital. The deer had evidently been frightened by the shooting of the hunters, as they were huddled together. According to the hunters there seems to be quite a number of deer in this section.

Reminiscing concerning election days of yesteryear an old-timer recalled that the present method of hauling voters to the polls in comfortable cars was just as effectively used forty years ago with a surrey and pair of fine driving horses furnished by a hopeful candidate providing the transportation. In those days it was a mark of distinction to own a surrey and driving horses.

Once again election day passed over in a quite orderly manner in this district. The work of the election boards kept them till morning in most precincts with the two in the Fourth Ward being the last to finish a little after 6 o'clock. Counting of the amendment votes added considerable work for the boards. In a few places voters who had failed to register came out to name their choice but when they weren't permitted to vote the names they called the boards weren't very choicy.

Hamilton Fires Back At Borah

Republican National Chairman Replies To Senator On G O. P. Plans

By RUSSELL F. ANDERSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Firing back at Senator William Borah for assailing a mid-term G. O. P. convention, Chairman John Hamilton of the Republican National committee said today:

"It will be the millennium, when Borah says anything affirmatively for the Republican party."

Borah, in a statement issued at Washington, denounced the proposed 1938 convention, warning that any declaration of party principles growing out of such a parley would be "jeered from the Atlantic to the Pacific."

The mid-term convention already has been approved by the executive committee of the Republican National committee, and tomorrow the full committee votes on the proposal.

Although Hamilton has previously been quoted as favoring the mid-term parley, the chairman today declined to come out openly in favor of it.

"The Republican party has to take some action and get a constructive program under way," Hamilton said. "I don't know what form this action will take."

Hamilton said he had made no poll of the national committee and did not know whether the off-season convention idea met with their favor or not.

"I personally am committed to no plan," the chairman declared.

"An open fight would do us good," Hamilton said.

There has been a movement on part of some of the committeemen, it was learned, to have the Republican battle thrashed out behind closed doors.

As the committeemen from all over the nation assembled, Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, chairman of the Republican National Congressional committee, sought to line up the party delegates against the 1938 party conclave.

Arizona Sales Tax Attacked By Publishers

Would Seek Injunction To Prevent Commissi n From Levying One Per Cent Tax

(International News Service)

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 4.—A three-judge federal court today had under advisement an original action brought by the American Newspaper Publishers' association against the Arizona state tax commission attacking validity of the state sales tax.

The association seeks an injunction which would prevent the commission from levying a 1 per cent tax against the gross income of the state's newspapers.

Elisha Hanson, attorney for the American Newspaper Publishers' association, told the court that the power of a legislature to tax the press is a power to destroy.

Must Pap Tax.

Under the law a newspaper cannot operate beyond the 20th day of the month without paying the tax for the preceding month. A license must be secured and it can be revoked unless the tax is paid.

Hanson declared that the tax is a condition placed on the publication of a newspaper, and if valid "the legislature can lay down any condition it so desires."

He declared the newspapers have no desire to escape the burden of taxation but are defending the right of the people to a free press.

"The rate might be increased, if such power is granted," he said, "even to the extent of confiscating the entire gross income of the press.

"If that be the case, the courts would be without authority to review the justice of the tax, but only the question of power."

DAMAGED WATER LINE VALVES ARE REPAIRED

New Castle Water Company workmen last night repaired several Highland avenue water line valves broken when company men made repairs a short time ago to a damaged fire hydrant at the intersection of Highland and Leasure avenues.

A car leaped the curb and ruined the hydrant a short time ago and in replacing it the valves were damaged. Last night's work repaired that damage.

But if we undertake to reform the world, is the idea to make it good or just make it like us?

My Sincere Thanks

To my friends and associates who made it possible for me to serve you as Councilman another term.
My service to you shall be expressive of my gratitude.
